Solon To Amend Gas Tax Measure, Exempt Industry

BATON ROUGE, June 1 (AP)—Three-fourths of Louisiana industry using natural gas would gain exemption from all gas gathering taxes under new proposals pledged today by the top sponsor of a $23-million-dollar tax raise.

Ellender And Dworshak Rap Military Waste

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) taxed the Pentagon today with "criminal" waste which he said "burns me up."

He linked up with Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) in questioning proposed expenditure of millions of dollars for new Air Force production or research facilities while a big naval gun factory at Pocatello, Idaho, reportedly stands idle or virtually so. The Pocatello plant, built in World War I, is held by the Navy now on a "stand-by" basis.

The two legislators sharply questioned Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, Chief of naval ordnance, at a Senate Appropriations subcommittee hearing on the $33.4 billion defense money bill. Dworshak said he has heard the Air Force is negotiating for construction of new facilities at Denver, Colo., and Ogden, Utah, that would cost "many, many millions." He demanded an explanation why it wouldn't save money and be just as effective to let the Air Force use the Navy's Pocatello plant.

Withington said the Army and Air Force both have inspected the Pocatello facility, but he does not know what was decided.

Ellender said the case reminds him of an incident in World War II when, he said, the Air Force established a jet pilot training center on 4,500 acres of "the finest, fertile land" in Louisiana. He said this was within 100 miles of an old blimp base in the same state, built at a cost of 17 million dollars and which, he contended, could as well have been used.

He said incidents like that are wasteful of tax dollars, take fertile land out of cultivation and are so extravagant that "I just think it's criminal."

"It burns me up," he added. Ellender and Dworshak said there should be more swapping of unused facilities among the services for the sake of economy.

Chairman Chavez (D-NM), presiding at the public hearing, said the subcommittee probably will "speak forcefully" on the subject in filing a report on its hearings. No one at the hearing gave any details of what the Denver or Ogden project might involve, although Dworshak said he had heard the Denver negotiations related to some "Martin bomber" contract.

The Air Force announced in February its approval of a proposal by the Glenn L. Martin Corp. of Baltimore to build a new plant near Denver to develop and test a guided missile system.

Cub Scout Loses Both Arms After Attack By Lion

LONDON, June 1—UP—A nine-year-old Cub Scout was near death Friday from a mauling by an enraged lion at Whipsnade Zoo.

Tony Murphy lost both arms to the slashing claws and fangs of the lion, and witnesses said only quick action by a priest, who hit the lion's nose, saved the boy's life.

Tony was in a party visiting the zoo under supervision of Father Ronald Aylward. The boy clambered over a safety fence and began teasing three lions by beating on the cage bars.

One lion struck out and pulled Tony in against the cage. Other Scouts screamed for "Skipper," the priest, as the lion slashed and clawed the boy.

Alward hurled the railing and sat at the lion with an iron bar picked up. One heavy blow across the nose loosed the lion's lip and he pulled the boy to safety.

Navy Discloses Plan To Junk 107 Obsolete Vessels

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—The Navy today told of plans to junk or sink 107 old ships, including three veteran battleships and the carrier Enterprise.

Plans for disposing of the vessels were outlined in a letter to Congress, which must approve the action. Undersecretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates said junking the vessels, which total 363,510 tons and are now in mothballs, "compares to dropping a term life insurance policy carried for many years and for which the need no longer exists."

Since World War II, the Navy has sold or scrapped nearly one million tons of shipping, including battleships, carriers and cruisers. The new list of vessels destined for destruction contains such illustrious names as the Battleships California, Mississippi, Tennessee, which with the Enterprise formed one-half of the battle line in the biggest surface engagement of World War II, in the Leyte Gulf in October 1944.

After World War II the late Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal recommended without success that the Enterprise be preserved as a national monument.

The Enterprise was only 200 miles from Pearl Harbor when the Japanese launched their Dec. 7, 1941 attack plunging this country into war. For a while she was the (Continued on Sixth Page)

Pilot Perishes As Two Jets Collide

BELZONI, Miss., June 1 (AP)—Two T33 jet training planes collided in the air five miles southwest of here today, killing one of three men involved.

At Greenville Air Force Base, the public information office identified the planes as having been stationed there.

Names of the dead man and two survivors, who ejected themselves from the falling planes, were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The planes fell near the Gooden Lake community. Cause of the collision and reason for the flight was undetermined, the PIO said.

Miscellany In The News

BILOXI, Miss., June 1 (AP)—Warner R. Moore, president of Outdoor Advertisers, Inc., said today American business will need an increasing amount of advertising to keep a high standard of living for the country's increasing population.

Moore, business manager and director of The New York Herald-Tribune, said few people realize the population of this country is increasing faster than that of India.

AUSTIN, June 1—UP—Abner McCall, dean of the Baylor University law school, was named by Gov. Allan Shivers Friday to fill the unexpired term of former Associate Justice Will Wilson on the State Supreme Court.

Wilson quit to run for Texas attorney general, John Ben Shepperd announced some time ago that he will not seek re-election to the post.

Unconstitutional Supreme Court Voids Jefferson Council Statute

NEW ORLEANS, June 1 (AP)—The Louisiana Supreme Court knocked out Jefferson parish's new commission council form of government, three days before it was scheduled to take office.

The high court declared the act setting up the new council unconstitutional and said it would give written reasons for its 5-2 ruling June 11.

The majority opinion said the act creating the council is "unconstitutional, null and void in its entirety."

The decision leaves the 17-man police jury, which was due to be replaced by the commission council June 4, in control of the parish government until a new election is called.

Jules G. Mollere, who had been elected commissioner - at - large, he would fight the Supreme Court decision, possibly with a petition for recall of some parish officials.

"We feel the people of Jefferson Parish want a change in government," Mollere said. "They've shown that by voting 7 to 1 in favor of the commission council."

"We're going to fight it tooth and nail until Jefferson Parish has a commission council form of government."

Elected to the council along with Mollere were Beauregard H. Miller Jr.; John G. Fitzgerald; Anthony A. Caramonta; and Alwyn Cronch.

Jefferson Parish Dist. Atty. Frank H. Langridge said the police jurors would continue to govern the parish until a new election can be called or until the governor appoints members of the jury to replace them.

Langridge said if the governor does not call an election, the jury (Continued on Second Page)

Disaster Avoided 2,500 Narrowly Escape Injury As Circus Tent Falls

FITCHBURG, Mass., June 1—UP—A violent wind gust knocked down a circus sideshow tent late Friday minutes after a Fitchburg policeman had the management cut short the show because of an approaching storm.

Nine persons, two of them circus roustabouts, were hospitalized. They were hit by the falling tent and sideshow display signs which were slammed to the ground. All were standing outside the tent which had been emptied minutes before police said.

Paul Christiani, part owner of the circus, said he cut the last 20 minutes of the main show where 2,500 spectators were seated when he received the storm warning from patrolman Andrew Quinn.

A cheetah stalked out in the sideshow tent broke his leash and fled into his cage when the wind suddenly lifted the tent off the ground, Christiani said. A giraffe, equally frightened, broke loose and ran into his truck.

An hour earlier, five workmen were injured, one of them seriously, when a lightning bolt exploded a ton of dynamite wired in a ledge on the new Massachusetts toll road near Russell, 55 miles from here.

Youth Charged With Mischief In Death Prank

TEXARKANA, Tex., June 1—UP—Four teen-aged boys were charged with malicious mischief Friday for driving through the Texarkana area with a bloody arm hanging out of their automobile.

Police charged the four told them they wanted to "have some fun by scaring a few people."

One boy got into the trunk, splattered ketchup on his arm and let it hang out of the car, officers said. The boys stopped at a gas station, and one asked for direction to "the nearest river."

The station attendant called police. Officers set up roadblocks over a four-state area, before picking the boys up near Garland, Ark. (Continued on Sixth Page)

230 Rebels Slain By French Troops In Algerian Battle

ALGIERS, June 1 (AP)—French military headquarters reported tonight 230 rebels have been killed in continuing battle in the "Gates of Iron" gorges of the Biban Mountains.

A stream-lined French division had an Algerian nationalist force trapped southwest of Bougie.

First reports today said the number killed or captured was more than 100.

It was the biggest battle of the 18-month-old Algerian nationalist rebellion against the French. And it was the first time that anything like a whole French division has been fighting the rebels in a single battle.

French headquarters said the division was fully engaged, indicating that the rebel force was exceptionally large.

The French said they had captured 210 rebels during the three-day battle. They said 160 of the 230 rebels killed were wearing military uniforms. French casualties were not disclosed.

In the Constantine department of northeastern Algeria, other French forces attacked a rebel group near the town of Mila, killing 30.

Algiers police staged an early morning raid today on homes of known Communists and leaders of the National Algerian Movement (MNA). Thirty rebels and 10 MNA leaders were reported arrested.

Powerful mechanical detachments of the French 7th Division, supported by air units, are tightening a ring of steel around the rebels in the Gates of Iron battle.

Sterlington Girl Killed By Big Truck; Daughter Of Dr. And Mrs. Spencer

A seven-year-old Sterlington girl was crushed yesterday about 2:10 p. m. by an unloaded gravel truck as she attempted to cross Highway 2, near the Ouachita River bridge at Sterlington.

The girl was identified as Susan Spencer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Spencer, Sr., Sterlington. Authorities said she died of a crushed skull.

Driver of the gravel truck, identified as Willard G. Chaplin, 37, P. O. Box 216, West Monroe, was arrested by Louisiana state police and charged with negligent homicide.

Troopers said the girl was attempting to cross the highway from the direction of Ward's Cafe on the north side of the road when the gravel truck, traveling west, struck the youngster.

She was crushed to death by the right rear, dual wheels of the gravel truck after she was dragged about 50 feet by the ironwork bumper of the vehicle, troopers related.

The girl became caught in the right front of the bumper as the truck struck her, authorities said. Troopers said the truck driver made an attempt to swerve to the left to avoid hitting the girl.

Troopers said 116 feet of skid marks were left by the vehicle and that the point of impact was 115 feet east of the Ouachita bridge.

President Names Committee To Aid Small Businesses

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower moved today to counter Democratic charges that his administration favors big business.

The President appointed a seven-member Cabinet committee to study the problems of small business men and recommend steps for aiding and strengthening them where necessary. Among those named to the committee was Wendell B. Barnes, who has been in charge of the existing small business administration since 1954.

The White House announced the action was taken after the question had been discussed at the regular Friday Cabinet meeting.

"It is my wish that the federal government keep fully abreast of developments that affect small businesses," Eisenhower said.

"Its programs and policies aimed at assisting small businesses should be carefully reviewed at this time with the object of strengthening them where necessary, and of making recommendations for steps that will provide such enterprises with additional constructive assistance."

Eisenhower directed the new committee to make a "continuing" study with a view to recommending administrative and legislative actions to "strengthen the economic position of small businesses and to foster their sound development."

Puzzle Jackpot Continues To Gain As Thousands Of Entries Miss Mark

By BONANZA BILL
The Morning World's crossword puzzle jackpot continued to gain weight this week. Out of the thousands of entries from throughout the district there were no winners.

This means that the jackpot will be boosted from $525 to the $550 level for the next go-round in the puzzle series, coming up in the Monday and Tuesday editions of the World.

Here is an explanation of the more difficult clues to this week's solution:
4. We all like to look at a nice rose BUD for it is a pretty thing. A rose BED may still be a nice rose BED and yet not be particularly nice to look at; in the winter, for example, or after the petals have fallen.

9. The clue clearly implies that "the answer" might NOT be safe. This is true of a REFUGEE, but not of REFUGES. A REFUGEE, defined as a place "which protects from danger," MUST be safe, otherwise it is not really a REFUGEE.

'Old Bolshevik' Succeeded By Pravda Editor

Shepilov Takes Over On Eve Of Tito's Arrival

MOSCOW, June 1—UP—V. M. Molotov, strong right arm of the late Josef Stalin, resigned as foreign minister Friday. He was succeeded by Dmitri Shepilov, editor of the official Communist party newspaper Pravda, and an apostle of the new "competitive coexistence."

(Molotov's resignation came on the eve of the visit to Moscow by Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Molotov was foreign minister when the cominform "disowned" Tito in 1948.)

Molotov was one of the last of the "old Bolsheviks" in the post-Stalin government. His resignation had been expected by the West since denunciation of the Stalin "cult of the personality" — one man rule — at the recent Communist party congress in Moscow.

It was the first major change in the top level of the Soviet government since Nikolai Bulganin succeeded Georgi Malenkov as premier early last year.

The announcement by the president of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) did not say whether the veteran diplomat also would resign. (Continued on Sixth Page)

Alabama NAACP Activity Banned By Judge In Court Order

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 1—UP—A circuit judge enjoined the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from "further activities" in Alabama Friday.

The court acted on the state's complaint that the association fostered the A. L. Davis riot and the Montgomery bus boycott. Judge Walter B. Jones issued the temporary injunction, the second such action taken against the NAACP in the South. The Negro organization is enjoined permanently in Louisiana for failure to register its membership with the state.

The Alabama restraining order was issued on a petition filed by Attorney General John Patterson charging that the Negro organization is a foreign corporation not properly chartered in Alabama.

However, the NAACP in New York said it had filed with Patterson's office information he requested including its certificate of incorporation, constitution and names and addresses of officers.

The NAACP said it had not received copies of the action to indicate how it had failed to comply with the law. The organization also denied it had organized the Montgomery boycott or employed A. L. Davis to test the University of Alabama's all-white student policy.

Patterson's petition accused the NAACP of helping to "organize, promote and finance the Montgomery bus boycott" now in its sixth month.

The petition also charged the organization with paying "or otherwise employing" A. L. Davis, now married to a Texas minister, and Polly Myers Houston, to test the policy of admissions at the university.

Citizens' Council Hears Address Of Natchez Editor

WINNSBORO, June 1 (Special)—Elliott Trimble, editor of the Natchez Democrat, addressed the Franklin parish Citizens Council here tonight at Winnsboro High School auditorium.

Trimble said the Citizens Council was "not fighting only the segregation decision, but fighting for all rights of the people." He said the segregation decision was only one step toward stamping out "all of our rights."

Trimble quoted the NAACP as saying the decision was only one step toward completely abolishing the color line.

He said "our government now is a big, positive, aggressive government." In explaining the constitution of the United States and its amendments he said the attitude of the Supreme Court was not the intention of the founding fathers. He pointed out that only certain powers were delegated to the federal government by the states and the others were reserved for themselves.

He pointed out that the three branches of government were supposed to work as checks, one against the other "but the legislative branch has been overshadowed by the other two," judicial and executive.

"With the destruction of state sovereignty has come the destruction of home rule. Our states have become satellites of the central government. The greater the power of government, the less freedom we have," Trimble said.

"Our government must start serving again instead of the master," Trimble said.

Trimble called on opponents of integration not to stop fighting because of the Supreme Court decision. "The NAACP did not stop fighting when the court made five previous decisions in favor of separate but equal facilities," Trimble declared.

Another speaker on the program was Raymond F. Masling, of Farmerville, executive director of the Association of Citizens Councils in Louisiana.

Driver of the auto was identified by police as J. L. Redmond, 31, of 711 Jackson street.

Gunshot Victim 'Satisfactory'

The condition of Mrs. S. O. Henry, 67-year-old Cadeville woman hospitalized after a gunshot wound early yesterday, was reported late last night as "satisfactory."

When Ouachita Sheriff Deputies found the woman at her home about 2:30 a.m. Friday she was not able to say anything. Authorities said the wound was self-inflicted. The shot, authorities stated, entered the left side of the chest just above the breast emerging at the shoulder blade.

After Millionaire Hubby Fired

Lady Docker Buys Auto Costing $21,280 To Take Place Of 'Company Car'

LONDON, June 1 (AP)—Fabulous Lady Docker bought a $21,280 automobile today to replace the trio of gold-plated cars she had to turn back to the owners—the company that fired her millionaire husband.

"I'm highly delighted with my new automobile," smiled Lady Docker over a bubbling glass of pink champagne. "It's got everything—including a real streamlined body."

The new car will have to be a lulu, for her last gold-plated job had seats that were covered with zebra skin and a compass with a diamond eye.

"I would have had the seats covered with mink," said Lady Docker, "but mink is too hot to sit on."

Slipping his champagne and smiling at his blonde wife, Sir Bernard, who lost his job as chairman and general manager of the sprawling Birmingham Small Arms Corp. last night, announced he would fight to get back.

Docker and John X. Sangster—the man who replaced him—fired verbal broadsides at each other as Lady Docker went new car-buying.

Sir Bernard issued a statement saying he was ousted by a "narrow majority" of the corporation's directors. Sangster countered with a statement that said the voting was 6-3 to fire Sir Bernard.

"I have now made up my mind to put the whole facts before the shareholders," said Docker. "I shall send them letters asking for their support."

Sir Bernard faces a lot of letter writing, for there are 17,000 shareholders.

Some of Lady Docker's friends and enemies—and she has lots of both—say her husband may have to do some explaining about her expensive clothes and cars. She bought a $14,000 mink and gold lame ensemble in which to pose beside one of her gold-plated cars, which are manufactured by a subsidiary of the Birmingham Small Arms Corp.

"Since I was doing nothing more than acting as a model," said Lady Docker, "I decided to charge the ensemble against tax if the tax people would agree."

She said an official of the corporation agreed the ensemble should be paid for out of corporation funds, but the tax people turned down the idea.

"So," she explained, "we paid for the ensemble with our own money."

Lady Docker, who will be 50 on June 23, also planned a birthday party with 20,000 corporation workers as her guests, but she denied this had any bearing on her husband being fired. "We expected the party might cost about 10,000 pounds—$28,000—or so," said Sir Bernard. "But we were going to pay for it, and what's 10,000 pounds? Attaining your half century calls for a good party."

Freeport Sulphur Considers Change In Building Plan

NEW ORLEANS, June 1 (AP)—A Freeport Sulphur Co. official said today tax bills proposed in the Louisiana Legislature had created "a large element of doubt" that the state would be a good site for a multi-million dollar nickel processing plant.

The company has announced plans for operations in Cuba and the United States involving a total of 55 million dollars. It said the American plant would be located "in one of the gulf states."

Robert Hills of New York, executive vice-president and director, said today no final decision had been made regarding the site.

The company began work six months ago on a pilot plant at Braithwaite, south of here. Construction was expected to be completed in October.

Hills said Louisiana was selected for the pilot plant and likely site for future commercial developments because of favorable economic considerations and also because it was felt the state was "politically matured."

Hills said tax measures presented in Baton Rouge had changed this feeling on the part of company officials, adding "there is a large element of doubt in their minds" that Louisiana is the best site for the processing plant.

During the first three weeks of the current session, Louisiana lawmakers have turned in bills asking more than 44 million dollars in tax raises.

Passman Raps At Attacks On States' Rights

The necessity for safeguarding the states' rights concept in government and the urgent need for a cessation of what he termed irresponsible acts that "are fanning fires of unrest, suspicion and hatred" were emphasized in Washington by U. S. Representative Otto E. Passman of Monroe.

Addressing his comment primarily to members of Congress who are not "personally familiar with true conditions in the south," the Louisiana Fifth District Congressman declared that the recent southern manifesto was really much broader than the question of racial segregation to which it was specifically directed.

Congressman Passman, one of the signers of the Manifesto, stated that the document actually embodies in its thoughts and principles the traditions which the south has cherished for generations. He asserted it makes clear the continued adherence of the south to the "basic principle of our constitutional form of government that all rights not granted to the federal government are reserved to the states and to the people."

Asking for an open-minded attempt to understand the south's problems, Congressman Passman told his colleagues that the present members of the supreme court "disregarded all judicial precedent and reason" in writing the segregation decision and at the same time "attempted to usurp" the powers of Congress.

He gave stress to the point that the final power in a free nation resides in the people. "The people, generally, are reasonable," he observed, "but they know that when any one branch of government oversteps its bounds, then the people must take action to remedy the situation."

The Louisiana Congressman said it would be "fuzzy thinking" to doubt that the southern people would use all lawful means to reverse the supreme court's school integration decision. "To say that the southern people should not object to a decision so unfair as the supreme court integration decision would be in violation of all sense of reason and decency," he declared.

Finally, Congressman Passman said that he was unalterably opposed to integration of the races and that he would do everything within his power to help bring about a reversal of the U. S. Supreme Court's "unwise, unwarranted and unwanted" decision.

Mrs. Eulalia McCoy and Mrs. Ann Lindle will conduct the summer school.

Mrs. McCoy stated that if the children are recommended for summer work by the classroom teacher, the children will receive credit for the subjects they take.

There will be a small fee charged for the classes.

Principal Keeps Class Chart On Neville's Grads

Paul J. Neal, principal of Neville High School, has kept a chart of each class graduating from Neville since 1936, which shows what graduates entered college and gives complete statistics concerning their grades in college in comparison to the grades they made in high school.

In addition to keeping these charts, he has compiled some detailed interesting and valuable statistics.

The most outstanding fact of local interest is that 75 to 80 per cent of the Neville graduates enter college. In some classes the average runs higher, as in the 1955 class with 87 per cent who entered college.

This is far above the latest figures for the state of Louisiana. The average per cent of students entering college for the 1952-1953 term was approximately 40 per cent of the high school graduates, according to reliable sources, Van Odom, superintendent of City Schools stated.

The national average of graduates entering college was given as 57 per cent.

"Of necessity, Neville must be a college preparatory school," Mr. Neal said.

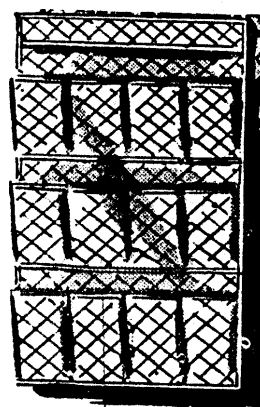

He further pointed out that in 52 per cent of the 559 courses taken in college by last year's graduates, the students made above average grades or A and B.

In the whole years work for the group, there were only 17 per cent below "average" grades.

Now For Operation Egg-Warm

While the men of Operation Deepfreeze settle in for the long night in Antarctica, male emperor penguins prepare for Operation Egg-Warm.

The only birds to remain on the icy continent throughout the year, the emperors will hatch their young in the dark of the forthcoming winter.

Though it was long believed that female emperors help to tend the eggs, recent observers say that the males alone deserve the credit. After Mrs. Penguin lays a white, one-pound egg, she places it on her feet for her mate to see. He sings ecstatically.

The she rolls the egg onto the ice. Clumsily, the male maneuvers it onto his feet, tucking it between his short legs and a warm, enveloping flap of skin that serves as an incubator. There it stays for two months while papa penguin shuffles about or squats on the ice, his back turned against -50 degree blizzards that whistle through his feathers.

Once the eggs are put to roost, the penguin womenfolk take off for open water. They don't return until the chicks appear. Then the fathers, weakened by two months of fasting, stagger off to feed.

Authorities know little about the pre-marital habits of these birds. Emperors, the largest and most southerly of all penguins, have never been in captivity. However, Malcolm Davis, bird curator of the National Zoological Park in Washington, once witnessed a courtship.

Mr. Davis holds the record—six years, three months—for keeping an emperor alive in a zoo. It was this hardy specimen which began keeping steady company with another emperor. At first he sat by her side. Soon he began circling her, clockwise for three or four rounds, then the other way. He arched his neck, threw back his neck and trumpeted deeply. In time, he moved in close enough to give her a flipper-pat on the back.

The pair never mated, however. The female died, leaving her grieving suitor sitting in the corner of the cage, his back turned on the public. A week later, he also died.

Meanwhile, Mr. Davis wrote up the romance. Shortly before he was to deliver the paper, an autopsy was performed. "He," like the penguin who died earlier, was also a she.

Graduates Face Future

It has been said that "there is nothing quite so useless as a commencement address." Judging from many that are made this may be true.

This is the time of year when thousands of high school and college young people are, as the orators say, "going forth to take part in building a better tomorrow." As a matter of cold fact, they are doing nothing of the sort.

First of all, they will not be building anything for quite a while. They will be struggling to make enough money to keep up with rising costs; trying to adjust to new jobs that may not fit them and then trying to find the one that does; trying to adjust to married life.

It will be many years before they get any chance at all to start to achieve the things they dream about as graduating seniors. The engineer will have to spend years before a drawing board before he builds great dams; the future businessman will work long hours at low pay for several years before he gets a chance at an executive position; the lawyer will work as a minor cog in a big law office, probably, before he "hangs out his shingle."

The graduate of today will be about 30 to 35 before he even gets a glimpse of the "mountains"—the accomplishments he can call his own, which make all of life worthwhile.

It is what to do with the 10 to 15 years between then and now a graduate ought to be advised. How to make the next 10 years useful in building experience, attitudes and knowledge of living, so that when the opportunity comes he will be prepared.

Interposition Sought In Texas

Texas may join Louisiana and five other Dixie States in approving interposition as a means of combatting the U. S. Supreme Court's racial integration program.

An interposition resolution was approved by the Louisiana legislature by unanimous vote in both houses.

The Texas Referendum Committee is seeking to place a similar proposal on the July state Democratic primary ballot. Robert Carrigill of Longview, Texas, committee chairman, has appealed for 20,000 to 30,000 additional signatures on the referendum petition. Approximately 140,000 signatures already have been submitted to the state Democratic Executive Committee.

Spokesmen for the referendum group express confidence that the proposal will receive overwhelming approval at the polls, if submitted.

Texas, richest and most populous state below the Mason and Dixon Line, has remained largely in the background from the standpoint of opposition to the high court's legislative edicts intended to force racial integration on the nation.

Some of the state's public schools, in areas where few Negroes live, already have integrated. Yet opposition to the mixing of the races in schools and elsewhere is rising steadily in the populous areas of Central, East and South Texas; and Citizens' Councils have enrolled many thousands of members.

Champions of interposition also are active in Arkansas, and apparently are making progress.

Thomas Hart Benton says he will not paint any more murals, adding "although if someone came along with enough dough I might." Most resolutions follow this pattern.

What worries weight gainers is that they cannot be fat and fit their old clothes.

The Refugees

The Immigration Service has been tough on refugees and it is the State Department for laying down the law, who in that sprawling, incoherent department is responsible?

After all, there has been no misunderstanding as to how the refugees from the Iron Curtain countries came to be in the United States. They were especially admitted as defectors from Marxism. They were often helped to escape and to reach this country by American governmental agencies. They have been screened and examined. Some of them have been given particular service to the United States. Nevertheless, Soviet Russia, Red Rumania, Red Poland, Red Hungary, are conducting campaigns for repatriation by blackmail and coercion and even what amounts to kidnapping and in the case of the kidnapped Russian seamen, the immigration authorities at Idlewild assisted the kidnappers. General Alexander Barmine, formerly of the Red Army, himself a refugee in this country whose service to the United States should not be underestimated, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee:

"...I personally came in contact with many cases identical to the cases you are going to hear of the people living under false papers and identities, living in fear and terror of being denounced and executed."

Have we a right to send men to their deaths after they were granted sanctuary? Naturally, they had to adopt false names to escape. Many of these men had been prisoners of war in Germany. Out of about 4,500,000, according to Barmine, about 3 million were allowed to die from starvation and disease. Others were forcibly made slave laborers. Barmine said:

"...They were warned, too, sometimes by the Soviet repatriation officers, if they go back they don't expect to join their families, and also they would be sent to far parts of Russia for forced labor." "Those who managed to find sanctuary in the United States often changed their names in the hope that the Russians would not be able to get at them. Many of these men are married and are the parents of native American children. Barmine said:

"...I met hundreds of them who are living in fear and agony, who are afraid of loss of citizenship, who are afraid to use their ability and knowledge and their talent and what they know, because they think they will be deported and executed."

The immigration officials have a law to guide them which is very hard on those who enter this country under false names or who provide our government with other false information. Realistically, these people must use false names in self-defense. They know how Walter Krivitsky was murdered in Washington; they have seen Russians kidnapped right here in this country; they know that Juliet Poyntz, an American Communist, was kidnapped on 57th Street in New York, right in the heart of the city, was put on a Russian ship and was never heard from again. They know how Leon Trotsky was murdered in Mexico. So they do not put up neon signs announcing their presence.

Sergei Szeko came into this country assisted by American military friends in Germany, who, he says, helped him to prepare his papers, which declare that he was born in Poland when actually he was born in Russia. When his wife applied for American citizenship, the immigration authorities went after Szeko, told him that they had known all about his incorrect papers and demanded a $2,500 bond which was raised by an American Army officer who knew him. Szeko swore that "...He earns $70 a week. He has to pay lawyers $1,500 in this case. He borrowed the money from three banks which he has to repay. The family of his wife is helping him, and that is saving him from complete disaster."

There are many hardship cases of this kind—cases involving refugees who were given sanctuary here, who changed their names and other identifying data on advice, and who now find themselves in conflict with our immigration authorities. To deport these people to Russia would be to send them easier to slave labor camps or to death. There ought to be a policy and a procedure if we are not to have a world-wide reputation that when we afford a man or a family a sanctuary, it is violated by some department of the government. Surely, such a humane matter ought not to be left to routine officials of the Immigration Service.

Parties' Plans REVEALED

Basic Republican strategy was laid down in the summer of 1952 in a detailed but still confidential blueprint for the campaign Wayne J. Hood of Wisconsin, one of the authors of the plan, revealed some of its principles in a speech Jan. 17, 1953:

"The Republicans, recognizing the need for additional votes, had for several campaigns (prior to 1952) directed their appeal at the so-called independent or liberal vote. The plan for 1952 proposed a new approach, directed at people who had not taken the trouble to vote in years past. . . . The stay-at-homes outnumber the independents by approximately 45 million to an estimated three or four million. . . . I think the basic correctness of this strategy can be determined from the results."

Robert Humphreys, campaign director of the Republican National Committee, told CQ his party again would place its hopes on a big vote. "Our get-out-the-vote drive will be somewhat selective," he said, "but basically we are relying on the belief that of any 100 voters who come to the polls, the majority will favor Mr. Eisenhower and the Republican ticket." Humphreys said the Republicans had the same strategy in 1954 but "we failed to produce the big vote." The reasons:

"We had growing pains. We were used to being in power. And we didn't have the magical patronage that used to go with control of the Presidency."

"There was some dissension within the party."

"Most important, there was too much lethargy in the country and we couldn't shake it. People were doing pretty well, and when that is the case, they don't vote in great numbers. The only places you had big votes in 1954 were in the areas of local unemployment, and that didn't help us."

As Humphreys sees it, the Republican task in 1956 is to motivate a big vote in the "large portions of the country that are well off" to counteract any possible upsurge in farm areas or other sections "that are not sharing the general prosperity." He thinks it will be difficult to equal the 1952 vote. But Republicans are planning a major effort in that direction. Most of the moves are in the future, but three already have been set in motion:

1 — President Eisenhower's decision to seek re-election was, Humphreys says, a great boost to "organization enthusiasm," key to turning out a large vote.

2 — Pledges have been given to carry out "The Republican recruit program," which calls on every GOP precinct captain to select an alternate or apprentice, between 21 and 30 years of age, and thereby double the size of the Republican working force for precinct registration and get-out-the-vote campaigns.

3 — Republican women, organized as "Polltakers of America," have developed a technique of canvassing a precinct. They take surveys on current affairs, which according to Humphreys, not only keep the party informed on trends in public opinion, but enable the women to identify persons in their own precincts who have Republican leanings.

Encouraged by their success in Congressional state and local elections since 1952, Democrats have emphasized development of precinct organization in preparation for the 1958 contest. All divisions of the National Committee have been involved in this effort. Sopskemen told CQ they feel the party is as strong organizationally, in individual states and communities, as it ever has been. One leader said, "We've got people working in towns we didn't even know existed four years ago."

In August, 1955, Democratic Chairman Paul Butler named a 28-member advisory committee on political organization, representing all sections of the party and areas of the country. The committee whose chairman is Neil Staebler, Michigan Democratic leader, has met several times and submitted two sets of recommendations to Butler. To date, only one suggestion from this committee has become a matter of party policy. A "Division of absentee voting" has been set up in the National Committee, with Rep. John W. McCormack (D Mass.) as its head. Butler said the appointment "reflects the growing awareness within the Democratic party of the vital role which the absentee vote will play in the 1956 election." He estimated the potential absentee vote at three million — largely servicemen, federal civil servants and their families.

Graduation Gifts

June is graduation month and graduation means gifts for the graduates. Flowers fade too soon. Jewelry is unsuitable for most. Try to think of something in the young person wants, or which would help him on the next phase of his growth.

If the graduate is going on to the next higher school, he would like to have some bit of equipment he is going to need. Reference books that he can use are fine. A dictionary, even an encyclopedia, are gifts from heaven for the student, and they will last his lifetime. Get the standard works. They are unfailing.

A camera is one of the best gifts a graduate can have. Get the one suitable to his use for it. A beginner needs a beginner's camera, while the graduate of college grade needs a more scientific apparatus. There are cameras for every kind of use — for fun, for study, for work in various fields. Buy the one that fits the need.

Every think of a trip abroad for a graduate? It is a wonderful gift that will give the recipient pleasure and profit for a lifetime. It's not too expensive if well planned, either.

And there is a gift that can open a door to the graduates' dream of higher education—a course at the Conservatory for the struggling young musician, a course in college or in some specialized school for the hopeful aspirant in medicine, science, business could make all the difference in life to your special graduate.

To the elderly friend or relative who has that money stowed away for his heirs, let me suggest that you give it to the graduate who needs the lift it could give him now. Later, after you have no further need of money, this young person, boy or girl, may have lost his chance for the course that might have opened the door to happiness and success. There is such a thing as being too late with a benefit.

There is nobody who has succeeded in being a Somebody in his field who has not been given a hand up by some kindly person. That kindness was not meant to be wrapped up in himself, but to be passed on to the next youngster struggling to get a foothold on life's slippery way. Pass it on.

Then, this June, when you get that invitation to the graduation exercises, know that it is an invitation from an unseen spirit to consider what gift you can bestow that will keep alive a kindness through the next generation and the next, on down the years.

It is an opportunity to invest in youth. Don't miss it.

At the start, lying it often the excuse for wrongdoing, but parents should search for the cause and put an end to lying before it becomes a habit. Dr. Patri tells how to do this in leaflet P-15, "Lying." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, in care of this paper, P. O. Box 98, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

IN WASHINGTON

Oil And Gas

WASHINGTON — The American oil and gas industries will have more than a casual interest in a Congressional committee study which will get underway June 4.

Actually, the inquiry by a subcommittee of the House Interior committee headed by Rep. Ed Edmondson of Oklahoma, is directed at the coal industry and its problems. But one of the primary objectives of the hearings and study will be to determine the economic feasibility of producing liquid fuels and gas from the almost unlimited supplies of coal in this country.

In fact, Rep. John P. Saylor, Rep. of Pa., who sponsored the resolution adopted by the House initiating the inquiry, frankly hopes that as a result of the committee work, Congress will soon authorize the expenditure of enough money to build a full-scale plant for the liquefaction of coal.

Research by the United States Bureau of Mines, several oil companies and several oil companies, has already proven that both liquid fuels and gas can be produced from coal.

But what the cost of producing gasoline, for instance, from coal would be if large commercial plants were built for such production is a matter of serious dispute. All research to date has been done in so-called pilot plants, which means that cost figures must necessarily be estimates. As a result, oil industry estimates reach as high as 40 cents a gallon for gasoline, while the Bureau of Mines contends that gasoline could be produced from coal by already proven methods at only a slight increase in cost over that produced from crude oil.

In the opinion of Saylor and other members of Congress from the major coal producing districts, the argument cannot be settled until a full-sized commercial plant is built and operated. Saylor argues that the cost of such a plant should be borne in part, at least, by the federal government, just as the government is subsidizing construction of atomic power plants in cooperation with private industry.

While the amounts of oil and natural gas still remaining underground in the United States are still a matter of guess, it is generally conceded that both crude and natural gas supplies will become exhausted long before the coal deposits of the country.

Saylor and others pushing the inquiry contend that the country should begin now to prepare for the day when American oil and gas supplies are unable to meet the demand, and coal will be forced to supply both liquid fuels and gas. In event of another war, that time would come almost immediately, he declares.

Edmondson, who comes from a stated noted best for its oil production but which has tremendous amounts of coal, is not prejudging the problem prior to the comprehensive hearings.

"There is no question but what the huge deposits of coal in the United States represent a fuel resource of incalculable value," he declared. "It would be a serious neglect of duty on the part of the Congress and industry not to explore the potential use of this resource when and if it is required for national defense and the general economy of the nation."

Edmondson does not agree with some experts that the coal industry is a dying one. Despite the depression in the industry during the past several years, he foresees a steadily increased demand for coal as the nation's requirements for fuel continue to grow. This means finding new uses for the coal, since its onetime use for home heating and fueling of railroads is nearly over.

Initial witnesses before the Edmondson committee will be representatives of the coal industry and officials of government agencies dealing with the problem. Before the hearings are concluded, however, it is anticipated that representatives of the oil and natural gas industries will also testify.

Technically, the committee's life is limited to this session of Congress, which expires December 31. But Edmondson believes that it will be continued so that detailed studies can be made by a specially selected staff, after the earlier public hearings are concluded.

Why are there quite a few persons of the opinion that they can't enjoy a party unless they are in condition not to remember anything that happened at it?

RIPLEY'S—Believe It Or Not

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Father Fenton has pointed out a common fault of most of us church laymen. For we are almost as ungrateful as the 9 healed lepers who failed to return to say "thank you" to Christ. But we moral physicians and psychologists might also make some searching criticisms of some of the clergymen, too, as noted below.

Case R-372: Father Patrick Fenton, age 32, is attached to the Notre Dame Church here in Chicago.

A great Catholic Youth Rally overflowed this historic church when Father Fenton addressed them recently on being more thankful in their prayers.

"A main sign of ingratitude is always to be grumbling and finding fault," he began.

"I don't like to use slang in the pulpit but a word you'll understand is 'griping'."

"Thanksgiving is a part of prayer, so be more grateful for the gifts of sight, hearing, home, food, clothing, religious family life and the American freedoms."

We religious psychologists say "Amen" to this excellent advice. For far too many folks indulge in "gimme" prayers.

"Oh, lord, please gimme an 'A' grade." Students may thus frantically implore God just before a final exam.

"Please gimme a better job or a raise in pay," lazy workers often beg.

"Please gimme good health and freedom from cancer," others moan, even as they light another cigaret to produce cancer in their lungs.

It is thus very unfair to "sponge" on God's mercy and affront the Almighty by asking for good health while we are knowingly trying to produce cancer in the healthy body God originally gave us.

God expects us to use "horse sense" and practical scientific judgment.

When medical experts have warned that cigarettes are a definitely known cause of cancer, then it is an insult to God to beg him to perform a miracle by which our cigarettes will not injure our lungs.

And you clergymen who stand before our teen-agers, sucking on your cigarettes, are certainly not setting a good example. Of all people on earth, clergymen are certainly supposed to lean over backwards to avoid misleading our youngsters.

If the American Medical Association has set its stamp of disapproval so strongly on tobacco that it has refused for the past 2 years to accept a single cigaret advertisement in its weekly Journal, then your clerics should certainly not join the opposition. That's conscious affront to God.

I'm obviously making this a strong charge and am not mincing words, either, when he saw the money changers desecrating the Temple.

And our body, says the Bible, is the temple of God (John 2:21 & I Corinthians 3:17). It shouldn't be necessary for us media and psychologists to remind you of your own Biblical precepts.

Yes, Dr. Crane, but doesn't it humiliate us? A Protestant cleric once vainly tried to defend his cigaret habit, which he had adopted in imitation of a popular professor at a Chicago Theological Seminary here in Chicago.

Sophistry

Well, you don't need to try to humanize yourselves: All members of Homo sapiens are plenty human. The clergy need to become more saintly, not more human.

And it is then the main job of you clerics to help make us laymen more saintly.

When our teen-agers see you educated clerics stampeding like stupid sheep in front of the high pressure modern cigaret advertising, how can we scientists and parents offset your bad moral example?

You ask us to pay your salaries and support your churches, yet you meanwhile sabotage us parents and scientists. Is that fair play? Certainly it is not Christian!

So let's make a deal. While we laymen omit some of our "gimme" prayers, suppose you smoking and alcohol-guzzling clergymen omit some of your "gimme" prayers, too. What do you say?

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

he was co-pilot on the helicopter. The aircraft was heavily loaded at the time of engine failure and it is reported as remarkable that no great damage and possible loss of life did not result.

In technical terms it is described that immediately upon suffering engine stoppage, rotating blades are manually disconnected from the engine and the wind turns the blades even faster than in normal action. The craft is made to descend almost vertically at a high rate of speed after the disconnection. When a few feet above the ground, the pitch angle of the blades is reduced to a relatively smooth landing.

The helicopter was 500 feet high when the trouble occurred.

Genevieve Castles, well known Monroe school teacher.

Mr. Castles has been a member of the faculty of Brown University in Providence, R. I. for the past few years.

Mrs. J. Frank Jones has just returned from a visit to Columbia, South Carolina. While there she visited the grave of Samuel Pluitt, her first forefather to land in America in the Seventeenth Century. He landed in the Bay of Georgetown, going up the Santee River some distance. Landing under a large water oak, lonely for the mother country, thanking God for the safe journey, and wanting to do something for the king, the newcomers stepped out and called this tree "Kingtree." A town called Kingtree has grown around this area. A monument has been placed at the entrance of this town, marking the spot where the tree stood.

At the time of Mr. Pluitt's death, he was a large landowner with 9,000 acres and a number of slaves. Mr. Pluitt was buried in a very quaint vault made of glass and brick with a white marble slab over the top. So many curious people moved the slab to see the condition of the body that relatives lowered it into the earth. The white marble slab was black from age and time. Mrs. Jones pulled moss from magnolia trees over a century old and wiped the tomb so she could read the inscription. Mrs. Jones, being a charter member of the Chief Tusquahama Chapter of the D.A.R., was very interested in visiting the place that she has longed to visit since childhood.

By 1928, Jones' fabulous fortune had grown to such proportions he obtained the Democratic National Convention for Houston by signing a blank check.

San Francisco bid $200,000 for the convention. Jones, then treasurer of the Democratic party, signed the blank check and told the national committee to fill in the amount necessary for Houston to get the convention.

In recent years, Jones sold a couple of his buildings but said the action was contrary to a philosophy that paid off handsomely.

"I'm a builder, not a seller," he said. "The profit comes from the increase in value after you've built." he said. "For instance, we built the Bakers Mortgage Building here in 1909. Today we couldn't build it for five times what it cost."

In 1937, Mr. and Mrs. Jones established the Houston Endowment, a philanthropic corporation which has provided grants and scholarships to over 50 colleges and universities in nine states, Canada and Scandinavia.

A $200,000 gift in 1945 founded the Woodrow Wilson School of International Affairs at the University of Virginia. Rice Institute last November received a million dollar gift for new buildings and in January this was matched in a gift to the University of Houston.

President Wilson appointed Jones director-general of the Department of MILITARY Relief of the American Red Cross and as a member of the Red Cross War Council.

In 1932 President Hoover appointed Jones to the RFC board. The next year President Roosevelt named Jones head of the vast lending agency.

Before the Jones-Wallace feud, President Roosevelt once remarked: "Jesse Jones is the only man in Washington who can, and does say 'yes' and 'no' intelligently 24 hours a day."

In 1948 Jones supported Republican Thomas E. Dewey against President Harry S. Truman. When President Eisenhower ran against Adlai Stevenson in 1952 Jones contributed to both parties.

"Because of my Washington service, I have friends in both parties and believe it desirable that both parties have an opportunity to present their case to the people, all of which costs money," he explained.

Named to serve with Burns on the Eisenhower committee were: Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of Commerce Weeks, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming, Small Business Administrator Wendell Barnes and Housing Administrator Albert Cole.

having SEEN it. When he SETS it is no time for the inward smile; he will probably be tense and expectant, and smile to himself. LA-TER, when the trap looks like succeeding.

15. The clue is perfectly true of CAST. THE PLAY has a CAST— which is often quite small in the case of an amateur production. Regarding COST, it is not so much a question of the COST of the PLAY but of the COST of PRODUCTION.

20. A gauge may register NIL. The oil gauge does not so much register OIL as PRESSURE of OIL.

23. SAFE is best. Where would there be a place where "no one" was SANE. That would include the attendants as well as yourself.

25. People go to the circus to see the show, including the FEATS of the acrobats, etc. They are not concerned with the SEATS AS SUCH, but rather with what they can see FROM their SEATS.

CLUES DOWN:

1. PEN is best. To insist infers that he succeeds in getting it. He could get the best kind of PEN simply by paying for it. Many factors might prevent him getting the best kind of MEN — they might well be in short supply, for example. DEN is vague.

2. INSURE is preferred. The thought that he might INSURE his hands is not likely to occur to an "ordinary" pianist, though it might reasonably occur to a great concert pianist. The thought of possible INJURY might come to a pianist of ANY calibre.

3. MINERS will naturally lose in efficiency if they're "pretty old." There is no "may" about it. As for LINERS, they "may" lose in efficiency or they may not, depending on how well the equipment is kept up. Thus, LINERS best suits the clue. DINERS is not as good.

5. DOPED is best. To have been DOPED is much too serious a thing to forget. All of us have been DUPED in our lifetime — some of us perhaps quite OFTEN in some small way.

11. The fact that he hasn't had ANY DECENT parts is certainly enough to discourage him. On the other hand, a highly successful actor may quite easily, at one time or another, not have had any RECENT parts, possibly from CHOICE.

13. ICELAND is correct. It is an "island" republic whereas IRELAND is not, being bordered on the north by Northern IRELAND.

16. Without SHAME, yes; but it is more a case of NOT HAVING HAD A SHAVE than of being "without it."

18. SWEET music measures up better as a KIND of music — this suggesting an actual type of music such as "hot music," "Sweet music," etc. SHEET music is no particular kind of music, but is merely one form in which music (of ANY kind) can be published.

F. Burns of the Council of Economic Advisers, head of the new committee, Eisenhower listed many federal activities which he said facilitate the establishment of new business concerns and foster the growth of others.

"Yes," he added, "the conditions of our modern economy are such that many small concerns confront substantial hindrances to their growth."

Democrats have charged that Eisenhower administration policies, particularly in the tax and military buying fields, have favored big corporations to the detriment of small business firms. Administration spokesmen have denied this.

Last month the Democratic National Committee set up a special advisory group on small business, headed by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Rep. Patman (D-Tex.). At the group's first meeting on May 11 Patman said:

"In the first four months of this year small business failures were the greatest in any similar period in the past 15 years, while big business profits and stock prices hit an all-time high."

Named to serve with Burns on the Eisenhower committee were: Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of Commerce Weeks, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming, Small Business Administrator Wendell Barnes and Housing Administrator Albert Cole.

Solon To Amend

bringing an extra 32 million dollars. Jones said his amendments would drop the total proposed yield to 27 million a year by:

1. Exempting state industries using natural gas in manufacturing operations which make use of Louisiana natural resources from paying any-gas gathering tax.

2. Freeing another 15 per cent of Louisiana industry from the proposed 2½-cent increase by exempting natural gas used in manufacturing operations which make use of out-of-state natural resources.

Department of Revenue figures, Jones said, show that 9.5 million of the 12.5 million revenue from the current one-cent tax comes from outside Louisiana.

He predicted that the 27 million the trimmed tax bill would bring "would be substantially enough to provide good salary raises for our teachers."

Last week the Public Affairs Research Council reminded that Louisiana already has the highest natural gas tax in the nation. Texas is the next highest, but its rate is scheduled for a cut in September.

Before adjourning for the week-end Thursday, lawmakers introduced almost 60.5 million dollars more in appropriations. This brings the total of special appropriation bills so far to 139 million.

Additional special spending proposals are expected at Sunday night's session, the final one for introducing bills.

The 480 million general and special appropriations total does not include such proposals as the multi-million teachers pay bill and pay hikes for the Legislature, several top state officials and board members.

Gov. Long's budget report, however, indicates that only a 10 million dollar general fund surplus is available for legislative spending.

Louisiana cities made their bid for more state tax revenue in the form of several legislative proposals. Three of them are backed by the Louisiana Municipal Assn.

Mayor Curt Siegelin of Bogalusa supports a fourth, rejected by LMA's executive board, seeking a two per cent boost in New Orleans race track taxes, the revenue to be distributed among cities. Siegelin reported earlier Gov. Long isn't against the plan.

Most legislators are eyeing the 11 tax raise bills moving up for final actions. Although Gov. Long has strength in both houses, a new constitutional provision requires two-thirds of the Legislature, instead of a simple majority, to approve tax raises.

The 11 tax boost bills are:

1. A 2½-cent gas gathering tax hike, to produce 32 million dollars, which Jones plans to cut to about 27 million.
2. A 10-cent boost in the $1.58 a gallon liquor tax levy, sought by the administration to provide $500,000 to finance a revived Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.
3. A 40-cent increase in the liquor levy, sought by the LMA, to produce two million dollars for cities.
4. Tripling the sulphur severance tax to $3 to provide four million dollars to be used indirectly for old age benefit increases sought by Long.
5. Doubling the timber severance tax, also approved by Long, to produce $600,000 more.
6. Levying a $3 a ton tax on menhaden and similar fish caught for industrial use, to provide 1.5 million for education.
7. A constitutional proposal to allow cities to raise property taxes by three mills, backed by LMA, to produce an estimated two million more.
8. Authority for cities to levy a 2 per cent gross receipts tax on utilities, including telephones.
9. A four per cent boost in horse race betting taxes in New Orleans and a 20 per cent gate tax, both sponsored by the administration, to raise two million dollars more to be allocated state fairs and festivals and Louisiana State University.
10. Siegelin's plan for a two per cent racing tax hike, producing two million for city aid.
11. A plan to charge $1,000 permit fees for gas pipelines crossing state highways or public lands.

'Old Bolshevik'

sign from his other posts. He is a first deputy premier along with Anastas Mikoyan, Lazar Kaganovich and Maxim Saburov.

(Western observers said Molotov's resignation would permit him to retire into the background during the Tito visit. As foreign minister, he most certainly would have had to participate prominently in the various functions scheduled for Tito.)

Molotov once served briefly as premier of the Soviet Union, but stepped down to serve as foreign minister for Stalin. "Old Iron-Pants," as he was sometimes called, was recognized by Western statesmen as one of the most skilled diplomats of the post-war era. U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in his book "War and Peace," labeled Molotov one of the canniest diplomats he ever saw in action.

Shepilov long has been considered by informed observers of the Soviet scene as the man to replace Molotov. More and more he has come forward recently as the man whose ideas are in line with the competitive coexistence theories espoused by Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev.

A Tass News Agency announcement broadcast by Radio Moscow said:

"The USSR Supreme Soviet Presidium has acceded to the request of the first deputy Chairman of the USSR Council of Ministers V. M. Molotov to relieve him of the duties of USSR foreign minister."

Shepilov, 49, is a new-generation revolutionary. He began his rise under Stalin and in the early 1950's, headed the agit-prop department of the party which laid down the party propaganda line.

He took over as editor of the official Communist party organ Pravda in 1952. He brightened it somewhat by introducing cartoons and photographs but the newspaper remained the mouthpiece for the all-powerful Soviet Communist Party.

As editor of Pravda, Shepilov was a chief Communist theoretician and as chairman of a foreign affairs committee in one house of the Supreme Soviet, or parliament, he had been an expert on foreign policy.

Molotov is an assumed name that means "The Hammer." He was one of those who, with Stalin, brought the present Communist nation out of the ruins of revolution.

Molotov's position since the denunciation of Stalin had been an-malous. He was the strong diplomatic arm that implemented the Stalin foreign policies which Khrushchev said made the Soviet Union an island in the world.

Since the attack on Stalin, Molotov has made several statements adjusting his past position to the new Kremlin line. But it became clear in April that he no longer was the primary spokesman on Soviet foreign policy.

It was Shepilov, and not Molotov, who made a major home front speech in Moscow while Bulganin and Khrushchev were visiting Britain early this year.

Shepilov's statements hewed to the new Kremlin line of breaking with the rigid Stalinist policies and advocating "competitive coexistence" between West and East.

Molotov has served as foreign minister of the Soviet Union since 1939 except for a one-year period when he was succeeded by the late Andrei Vishinsky. Vishinsky was fired as foreign minister after Stalin's death in March 1953.

Shepilov is a full member of the Communist party's central committee and a candidate member of the central committee's presidium.

In 1953, he was elected as associate member of the USSR Academy of Sciences in the branches of economy, history and law. He was elected chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the council of nationalities of the Supreme Soviet in 1954 — that was when foreign observers marked him as a man to watch.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

It is essential that we take stock of our mental quicks periodically, that we throw out those thoughts which depress us and keep only those which add happiness to our lives.

Why Not Give Your Mind A Spring House Cleaning

At some time during each spring season all women are attacked by the urge for self-improvement. It all begins with spring house cleaning when a man hardly recognizes his usual habit at upon returning home in the afternoon and can find nothing he looks for.

Everything may seem normal when he leaves in the morning but when he returns that night the rugs have disappeared, the draperies may be down, and he may glimpse his wife through an open closet door, in a mad whirl of cleaning up and reorganizing.

Usually this frenzy of improvement goes further and you will find the little woman giving her skin and hair some special attention, and probably exercising and counting calories.

I often think that we should take this idea all the way and give our minds a house-cleaning at least once a year. We accumulate an awful lot of useless stuff in our minds as well as in our houses and habits of thought become more securely fixed than cobwebs in a corner and may be just as unattractive. What about those little sensitivities and prejudices which gnaw at the edges of your consciousness? What about resentments which drug you, and old prejudices which should have been discarded long ago? What about all of those little fears and worries which buzz in and out of your awareness like flies on a summer day, thus distracting you from the vibrant way of living?

It is essential that we take stock of our mental quicks periodically, that we throw away those thoughts which depress us and keep only those which add happiness to our lives.

Once we get rid of all those mental habits which were glooming up our days we may find plenty of room in our minds for new interests and activities and happier, fresher, more springlike thoughts.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX —

- Children Come First
- Language Problem

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a widow with four adorable children. The three boys are staying with their paternal grandparents while the little girl lives with me and my parents. I must work and my folks didn't want to assume the responsibility of four youngsters. Hence the separation of the children.

I have met, and fallen in love with, a fine man. We are planning marriage; he refuses to take my three boys, but agrees to my keeping the girl. I love my sons dearly and wonder if I could convince him to take them after we're married.

Fanny

DEAR FANNY: On the contrary, after he's married he'll probably refuse to accept your daughter. Your fiancé doesn't want the responsibility of another man's children; he wants to begin married life free and unfettered.

Obviously, as a mother of four you won't fit into that picture. If you tried it, the only result would be unhappiness. You might banish four lively kids from your life, but never from your heart or mind. Furthermore, it wouldn't be exactly sporting to leave the boys forever in their grandparents' care. Suppose something happens to the couple? Where would your boys be then?

I know it isn't easy for a widow to turn down an attractive matrimonial prospect, but this one seems to have very little to offer except charm. You want something more substantial, I'm sure.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am soon to become engaged and have no problems with my boy friend that I can't solve. However, I'm having future mother-in-law trouble already. Though my friend and I are of the same original nationality, my folks were born here and speak only English; his parents were born abroad and still speak their native tongue.

My fiancé's mother often pokes fun at me for not learning the language she speaks. Should I refuse to visit her, complain to my boy friend, or give her a taste of her own medicine and insult her?

Patty

DEAR PATTY: Your impatience with, and intolerance of, the older woman makes your own ignorance only too apparent. You consider every angle of retaliation, but none of co-operation. You look down on your friend's mother, when you should respect her.

If your only in-law difficulty is a question of language, consider yourself lucky. A sensible girl would take full advantage of the opportunity not only to learn another language, but to please her fiancé and his mother. Get wise, girl; start making your marriage a success now.

Write Dorothy Dix for free leaflet D-40, "Summer Romance," or, if you have a problem, send it to her. In all cases, be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send request to her, care of this newspaper.

Negro Soldiers Face Trial For British Slaying

HULL, England, June 1 —UP— Four Negro members of the U. S. Air Force Friday night were ordered to stand trial in a British court on charges of murdering an Englishman who objected when one of the men spoke to a white woman.

It will be the first time since World War II that any American serviceman has been tried for murder in a British court. The accused men were committed for trial at the end of a preliminary hearing.

The defendants, jailed at Leeds, are airmen James C. Jordan, 20, of Newark, N. J.; Leroy Grayson, 26, of Brooklyn; James P. Martin, 22, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Vincent Hill, 19, of Chicago.

They are charged with murdering Walter Beaumont, a 27-year-old laborer, during a fight in a dockside cafe named the "Bluebird," on May 4.

Witnesses testified that the servicemen stabbed Beaumont twice and took turns kicking him as he bled to death on the floor of the cafe. They allegedly also beat Beaumont's companion, Ernest Milne into unconsciousness.

Benson On Tour Of Corn Country; Hears Farm Woes

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 1 —UP— Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson toured Iowa's corn belt farmlands in a station wagon on Friday and was greeted with complaints about hog prices and the drought.

Benson took a look at parched cropland and agreed that some sections are "on the verge of qualifying as disaster areas."

The secretary, clambering over barbed wire fences and checking on moisture and crop conditions as he went, swept through southwestern Iowa for a first-hand check on the problems of farmers.

He planned to spend the night at Nebranka City, Neb., across the Missouri river in Iowa, and tour Nebraska on Saturday.

About 100 farmers turned out to greet Benson at his first stop on the farm of Ralph Hardin of Indianola, Iowa. It was Benson's first visit to Iowa since he encountered his first only criticism.

One of the farmers, E. Weise of Jewell, stepped up to complain about hog prices, cultural research and import hams from Communist Poland.

Weise also told Benson he not have enough real farmer's advisory staff.

Benson took Weise's complaint good-naturedly. He said prices are now on the rise and his department is doing more agricultural research than previous administration. He

Lafourche Parish Sheriff Approves Bingo And Keno

THIBODAUX, La., June 1 (AP)— Sheriff Eddie St. Marie of Lafourche Parish said today he has no objections to keno and bingo games in his parish, but would shut down "gambling."

He classified gambling as blackjack, dice, slot machines and other games of chance.

The New Orleans Times Picayune, in a front page story, today told of a keno game operating in Raceland just a few hours after St. Marie had been sworn in as sheriff.

Former State Police Supt. Francis Grevenberg included keno and bingo in his gambling crackdown.

But Gov. Earl K. Long said he would not oppose charity bingo. The Lafourche sheriff said, "the keno and bingo games played in my parish are always for the benefit of a worthy cause. I have no objections to organizations like the American Legion, the VFW and firemen holding bingo parties to raise money to be used to help the community and the people of this community."

St. Marie said donations from the game at Raceland "will be made to the charity hospitals of the parish at Golden Meadow and Thibodaux."

He added, "the people playing there last night were old friends of mine and represented all political factions. Playing bingo and keno is a tradition with them, and for many it is considered merely a pleasant way to pass the time."

"I don't believe many of them would be there if they thought they were gambling," St. Marie said.

Keno is similar to bingo. A winner at the Raceland game was entitled to $30. An employee of the establishment told a reporter each card sold for $1.

Monroe Needs 11 Innings To Drop Thibodaux, 4 To 2

Bentley, Connally Drive Over Runs Breaking 2-2 Tie

THIBODAUX, La., June 1 (AP)—Bill Bentley's single and a sacrifice fly by Bill Connally sent two runs across in the 11th inning tonight as Monroe took a 4-2 Evangeline League decision over Thibodaux.

The game was the sixth meeting this season between the two teams.

'LEGION NITE'

It's "Legion Night" at Legion Memorial Stadium here tonight with the Monroe Sports opening a two-game home series with the Thibodaux Senators, Evangeline League rivals who split a pair of 11-inning battles at Thibodaux yesterday and Thursday in their scramble for third place.

Came time is 7:30 o'clock with prospects of one of the largest crowds of the season in this annual special "Legion Night" contest in which the baseball club contributes the gate for park maintenance in its rental agreement with the American Legion.

The Jaycees also get a pregame spot to announce the All-Twin Cities baseball team from the five high schools of Monroe and West Monroe.

and the fourth that went extra innings.

Catcher Joe Miller opened the Monroe 11th with a single and moved up when Jim Johnston followed with another single. Bentley's safety sent Miller home and Connally's fly to right scored Johnston.

Thibodaux showed a 2-0 lead at the end of three innings, but the Sports tied the score in the fourth when Keith Mitchell doubled Roy Mantle home and Johnston's fly scored Morris Millet.

Boardman Stalks Frankie Ryff For 9th Round Kayo

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Larry Boardman, 20-year-old lightweight flash from Marlboro, Conn., knocked out Frankie Ryff for the first time in his career tonight in 46 seconds of the ninth round at Madison Square Garden. A left-right combination flattened the 24-year-old New Yorker. Boardman weighed 137½, Ryff 137½.

After two slow rounds, Boardman came out swinging at the start of the ninth. Crowding in with both fists flailing, the blond youngster from New England dropped Ryff on his face.

Ryff struggled to get up at seven and then toppled over on his back. His corner crew dragged a stool to mid-ring before taking the former "rookie of the year" back to his corner.

The sudden ending breathed new life into the lightweight division, which has been struggling along without any drawing card for several months.

Dr. Ira McCow, New York state athletic commissioner recommended that Ryff go to St. Clair's hospital for observation. He agreed.

A crowd of about 2,500 turned out on a hot, rainy night to see the New York debut of Boardman, who had beaten both lightweight champ Wallace (Bud) Smith and feather champion Sandy Saddler in over-the-weight bouts this year.

It was Boardman's 33rd fight, bringing his record to 31-2 with 15 knockouts. He never has been stopped, losing two decisions earlier in his career. Ryff, former Golden Glove champ, had lost only once in 21 previous starts, dropping a decision to Ralph Dupas in New Orleans a year ago. He hadn't fought since December 23 when he whipped Baby Vasquez and never had been knocked out before.

Little Boys League

BANKERS WIN THIRD
First National Bank won its third straight Little Boys League game in West Monroe yesterday by blasting Colbert's Hardware, 16-1, to avenge the season-opening and only loss suffered by the Bankers this season.

David Martin hurled a three-hit victory with Wayne Reighney catching. Wayne Hardwick and Bill Edney were the Colbert batter.

Robinson got 3-for-5 to lead First National's attack.

Cohen Sells Poirer To Harry Slickevers

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Irving Cohen today sold the contract of Gene Poirer, Niagara Falls, N.Y., welterweight, to Manager Harry Slickevers for $1,750.

Cohen is now general manager of the New York Boxing Club, which promotes the Monday night television fights at St. Nicholas Arena. He is not permitted to manage fighters while connected with a fight club.

"After 25 years, I'm all through managing," said Cohen. "Poirer was my last fighter."

Cohen managed former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano, welterweight Billy Graham, light heavyweight Bob Murphy and many other featured fighters.

Ruston, La., June 1 (Special)

The widely known Big Eight Baseball League will conclude the night to its eleventh consecutive pennant race Saturday night with a full three-game program slated for the 1956 liftoff.

Opening night contests and starting times have been announced by Major Larry J. Fox of Ruston, league president, as follows:

Ruston Ramblers vs. Minden Red Birds at Minden, 8 p.m.

Homer Oilers vs. Bernice Lions at Bernice, 7:45 p.m.

Springhill Sports vs. Bastrop Barons at Bastrop, 8 p.m.

The amateur circuit was first organized way back in 1946 as a six-team outfit. A year later its membership was boosted to eight, and ever since it has worn the Big Eight League title.

Homer is defending champion of regular season play, having headed the pack last summer with a 25-12 record. Minden came next at 23-12, followed by Ruston, 19-16; Bernice, 18-17; and Bastrop and Farmerville each posted 10-25 marks.

In the Shaughnessy playoff Bernice spilled the Dope bucket by downing flag-winning Homer in a semi-final round. Then the Lions defeated Minden in the final bout. Minden had eliminated Ruston in the other semi-final tussle.

Last winter Farmerville decided to give up its franchise as a Big Eight member, and the vacancy was filled by the Springhill club.

Only two of the 1955 team managers, Billy Henderson of Ruston and Bob Brasher of Bastrop, are returning to pilot their respective clubs. Other skippers include James Farrar at Minden, Bud McDonald at Homer and Calvin Craig at Springhill. The Bernice club has not announced its manager.

The 30-game season will be completed on Saturday, August 11. Games are to be played each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday nights and the Shaughnessy playoff is tapped to begin in mid-August.

Next week's schedule will find the following pairings:

Tuesday: Ruston at Springhill, Bernice at Bastrop, Minden at Homer.

Thursday — Homer at Ruston, Bastrop at Minden, Springhill at Bernice.

Saturday — Bernice at Ruston, Minden at Springhill, Bastrop at Homer.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

To Commission New Christian Church Sunday

Commission services will be held Sunday morning at the First Christian church for a group to organize a new Christian church.

The group will consist of approximately 25 families who are at present members of the First church. An option has been obtained on a site for the new church near the intersection of Forsyth avenue and Loop road.

Until such time as a building can be erected the group will hold services at Lexington school. These services will begin June 10.

Inasmuch as Rev. R. T. Watson and Rev. F. O. Seymour, both of First church, will alternate as temporary ministers for the new group, church services at Lexington school will be at 8:30 each Sunday morning with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m.

Any families living in this area who are at present not affiliated with any church are invited to attend.

Sheriff Grant Goes Into Office For Third Term

Bailey Grant, 40, was sworn in Friday morning by Chief Deputy Clerk Beto S. McRaney for another four years as sheriff of Ouachita parish. Today marks the beginning of his third term in office.

He was unopposed for reelection and was automatically declared re-elected.

Sheriff Grant is following tradition, as his father was deputy here for eight years until 1916, when he was elected sheriff. He served as sheriff of Ouachita parish until 1924.

Bailey Grant started in as a deputy U. S. marshal. He was called into service during the war and served three years. Upon his return he resumed his former job and worked one and a half years, until he resigned to run for sheriff of Ouachita parish.

He resides with his wife, Dorothy Breese Grant, and their daughter, Bennie, 11, at 109 Slack in West Monroe.

Sheriff Grant has had opportunities for excellent positions elsewhere but upon a recent occasion expressed his happiness at serving in Ouachita parish. Commenting upon his return here from service, he said, "I almost kissed the first pine tree I saw!"

He announced that 24 deputies

4 Crewmen Die Bomber Narrowly Misses Homes In Crash At Denver

DENVER, June 1—UP—A crippled Air Force B-5 bomber crashed and scattered burning wreckage through the yards of three homes here Friday, killing four of the eight military personnel aboard.
None of the occupants of the houses, located in a suburban area a mile south of Lowry Air Force Base, was hurt although one house was set afire.
The four injured survivors of the crash—one of them a WAF—were reported in good condition at the Lowry base hospital. Two were only shaken up while one had a broken arm and the fourth body burns.
The names of the dead were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.
The twin-engine plane, enroute from McChord Air Force Base, Wash., to Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla., had taken off at 7:59 a.m. CST from Lowry by Tyndall. Two minutes later the pilot radioed Lowry he was having engine trouble.
The plane crashed and exploded on a hillside, narrowly missing four houses in the heavily-populated suburban area immediately southeast of Denver, in neighboring Arapahoe county.
The plane's right wing missed one house by 24 inches, knocking over a stack of cement sacks and grazing a pickup truck parked in the yard. It set fire to the corner of the Herbert Roddy home but firemen quickly put out the flames.
At another nearby house, Mrs. William Morgan was in the front yard watering the lawn with two of her five children when she heard the plane. She told the girls to run into the house and dashed inside herself to where two other children were eating breakfast. Another daughter was waiting for a school bus on a road nearby.
As Mrs. Morgan reached the door, she said the plane crashed and flames engulfed the yard.
Ernest C. Wheeler, 61, was driving to work at Lowry when he saw the plane with its left engine apparently in trouble veering to the left shortly after takeoff.

"I thought it was going to hit me," Wheeler said. "One fellow was lying there with his clothes on fire—horribly burned. He was praying and kept calling for someone."
Wheeler said the man told him to "leave me alone—I want to die." Wheeler and a Lowry crash crew pulled the man from the burning wreckage and put him in an ambulance but he died before he reached the Lowry hospital.
The survivors were identified as S. Sgt. Charles L. Willard, 28, McChord AFB, Texas City, Tex., broken arm; Pvt. N. L. Hester, 19, Fort Lewis, Wash., home Guntersville, Ala., no apparent injury; Juanita Walker, WAF, Keosauqua, Miss., apparent injury, and 1st Lt. Harrell Lawley, 26, Lowry AFB, home Oakland, Calif., body bruises.

TV Stations Form National Group At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, June 1 (AP)—Representatives of 65 television stations over the nation organized the Assn. of Maximum Service Telecasters here today.

A spokesman said another 37 stations had indicated "definite interest" in the movement, which began about three months ago.

The new organization elected Jack Harris of Houston (KPRC-TV) chairman.

The spokesman said the group's objectives was "to assist the appropriate government authorities and the television industry in assuring the maximum TV service for the people of the United States, and to follow the intent of Congress in the communications act of 1934 as amended."

Membership, he said, is open to any television station in the country, VHF or UHF, "rendering maximum service by operating at the maximum effective radiated power permitted for such station by the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission."

The association adopted a requirement that each member station must operate in the best interest of the people, both urban and rural, in its total service area, he said.

'Peace' Debate

Adjournment Of Security Council Forced By Arabs

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 1—UP—The Arabs, with Russian support, Friday forced adjournment of the UN Security Council debate on a British resolution empowering Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to continue his peace efforts in Palestine.

Britain revised its resolution on the issue to meet two major objections from the Arabs, but refused to budge on a paragraph declaring the necessity to create conditions that could lead to solution of the Middle East problems on a "mutually acceptable basis" between Israel and the Arabs.

After two sessions Friday, the council adjourned until Monday.

The disputed clause had placed Russia's Arkady A. Sobolev in a sensitive diplomatic position before he finally came out in support of the Arab opposition to it.

The disputed language had been taken from the London communiqué issued after the April talks

there between Russian leaders Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin and British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden.

The Arab bloc, led by sharp-talking Ahmed Shukairy of Syria, declared that the British had taken the wording "on a mutually acceptable basis" out of the context of the Khrushchev-Bulganin-Eden communiqué.

The Arabs also argued against any action that might conceivably lead to a reopening of the basic issues that have blocked peace in Palestine since the end of the shooting war in 1949. Instead, they contend that any solution must be based on previous UN decisions, many of which have been disregarded by Israel.

Ever since the council began its debate on the British resolution last Tuesday, Sobolev had sat silent with the dilemma of whether to pursue the Kremlin's establishment of UN policy of siding with the Arabs or to support Britain in its quotation of the communiqué subscribed by his Kremlin chiefs.

Sears' Spending For Advertising At New Record

CHICAGO, June 1 (AP)—June 1—Sears, Roebuck and Co. reported today it spent $41,775,000 for newspaper advertising in 1955. This was 10.9 per cent more than the 1954 figure of $37,673,800.

The outlay was spread among 1,012 daily and weekly newspapers in every state in the U.S. Sears said this was the 10th consecutive year of record advertising expenditure by the company.

"The newspapers of the nation are continuing to do an effective selling job for Sears and they played a vital role in our being able to move a record quantity of goods last year," said Edward Gudeman, vice president in charge of merchandising.

Nixon Forecasts 'Bigger' Victory For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, June 1—UP—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Friday President Eisenhower can win a bigger victory in November than he won in 1952 if the Republicans get out a big vote.

But he called it a "big if," saying there is danger of a light vote when people are satisfied. He addressed the national conference of the "Citizens for Eisenhower."

Nixon said the people like the GOP slogan of peace and prosperity "and want it continued for four more years" despite Democratic sneers that it is a product of "Madison Avenue" advertising writers.

Other political developments: The Republican national committee was disclosed to be considering a suggestion that the San Francisco convention be cut from four days to three. A spokesman emphasized the idea is "only a proposal" and that nothing definite has been decided.

White House news secretary James C. Hagerty told the citizens the Democrats are "desperate and haven't any issues. He said the campaign will be fought and dirty because "they're going to throw everything in the book" at the Republicans with a "shotgun approach hoping they will hit something."

Richard L. Tobin, public relations director for the group, said Republican workers must impress upon Negro voters that continued Democratic control of Congress will mean that important committees still will be headed by "bigoted southern political hacks."

Dr. Gabriel Hauge, Mr. Eisenhower's economic adviser, told the organization the President is a champion of "sound economics" and has demonstrated "it is possible to be President and to be right about economics." He urged the GOP to "sell" the voters on Mr. Eisenhower's economic views.

Bond Is Reduced In Manslaughter Case In Court

Bond for Irene McGuire, Negro, 1101 DeSard street, charged with manslaughter in the May 19 shooting of Ishah Jones, 30, 8 Short Flynn street was reduced from $5,000 to $3,000 following preliminary hearing in Fourth District court Friday. The Negro woman claims to have unintentionally shot the man at Lacy's Chicken Box, 1111 Adam street, where she worked as a waitress after he came behind the counter and slapped her, according to a recorded confession played during the hearing. She claimed that Jones came behind the counter and she took a pistol from under the counter and asked him to stop, he did not but came forward. Jones continued walking toward her, and she fired the pistol. Ouachita parish coroner, Dr. J. T. French, testified that Jones died of a bullet wound in his left chest. He was dead on arrival at Charity hospital. The defendant is confined to the Ouachita Parish jail. Arthur D. Ashley, Negro, charged with three counts of theft, was sentenced three years on one count and two on the other counts to state penitentiary. Judge Heard said the sentences are to run concurrently.

William Davenport, charged with copper wire theft valued at $122 was sentenced to two years at Angola. Jimmy Harris, charged with simple burglary, pleaded not guilty. Lane Lee, charged with attempted simple robbery, pleaded not guilty. No date was set for trial. Robert Underwood charged with selling whiskey without a state or parish license, was fined $500 or 180 days. Henry L. Crain, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was sentenced to serve 125 days in jail and fined $200 or 90 days. He is listed as being a second offender. Hubert C. Mullins, charged with reckless operation of a vehicle, was fined $200 or 60 days in jail. Oliver Page, charged with reckless operation of a vehicle, was fined $200 or 60 days; operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license, $25 or 25 days; and illegal carrying of a weapon, $200 or 60 days in jail. Douglas Payne, Jr., charged with reckless operation of a vehicle, was fined $100 or 90 days. Beverly Roberts, charged with reckless operation of a vehicle, was fined $30 and court costs or 30 days in jail. Gushion Simpson, charged with operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license, was fined $25 and court cost of 25 days. ## Solon To Amend Gas Tax Measure, Exempt Industry

BATON ROUGE, June 1 (AP)—Three-fourths of Louisiana industry using natural gas would gain exemption from all gas gathering taxes under new proposals pledged today by the top sponsor of a 32-million-dollar tax raise.

Ellender And Dworshak Rap Military Waste

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) taxed the Pentagon today with "criminal" waste which he said "burns me up."

He linked up with Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) in questioning proposed expenditure of millions of dollars for new Air Force production or research facilities while a big naval gun factory at Pocatello, Idaho, reportedly stands idle or virtually so. The Pocatello plant, built in World War I, is held by the Navy now on a "stand-by" basis.

The two legislators sharply questioned Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, Chief of naval ordnance, at a Senate Appropriations subcommittee hearing on the 33½ billion dollar defense money bill. Dworshak said he has heard the Air Force is negotiating for construction of new facilities at Denver, Colo., and Ogden, Utah, that would cost "many, many millions." He demanded an explanation why it wouldn't save money and be just as effective to let the Air Force use the Navy's Pocatello plant.

Withington said the Army and Air Force both have inspected the Pocatello facility, but he does not know what was decided.

Ellender said the case reminds him of an incident in World War II when, he said, the Air Force established a jet pilot training center on 4,500 acres of "the finest, fertile land" in Louisiana. He said this was within 100 miles of an old blimp base in the same state, built at a cost of 17 million dollars and which, he contended, could as well have been used.

He said incidents like that are wasteful of tax dollars, take fertile land out of cultivation and are so extravagant that "I just think it's criminal."

"It burns me up," he added. Ellender and Dworshak said there should be more swapping of unused facilities among the services for the sake of economy.

Chairman Chavez (D-NM), presiding at the public hearing, said the subcommittee probably will "speak forcefully" on the subject in filing a report on its hearings.

No one at the hearing gave any details of what the Denver or Ogden project might involve. Although Dworshak said he had heard the Navy's negotiations related to some "Martin bomber" contract.

The Air Force announced in February its approval of a proposal by the Glenn L. Martin Corp. of Baltimore to build a new plant near Denver to develop and test a guided missile system.

Cub Scout Loses Both Arms After Attack By Lion

LONDON, June 1—UP—A nine-year-old Cub Scout was near death Friday from a mauling by an enraged lion at Whipsnade Zoo.

Tony Murphy lost both arms to the slashing claws and fangs of the lion, and witnesses said only quick action by a priest, who hit the lion's nose, saved the boy's life.

Tony was in a party visiting the zoo under supervision of Father Ronald Aylward. The boy clambered over a safety fence and began teasing three lions by beating on the cage bars.

One lion struck out and pulled Tony in against the cage. Other Scouts screamed for "Skipper," the priest, as the lion slashed and clawed the boy.

Aylward hurled the railing and beat at the lion with an iron bar he picked up. One heavy blow across the nose loosened the lion's grip and he pulled the boy to safety.

Navy Discloses Plan To Junk 107 Obsolete Vessels

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—The Navy today told of plans to junk or sink 107 old ships, including three veteran battlewagons and the Carrier Enterprise.

Plans for disposing of the vessels were outlined in a letter to Congress, which must approve the action. Undersecretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates said junking the vessels, which total 363,510 tons and are now in mothballs, "compares to dropping a term life insurance policy carried for many years and for which the need no longer exists."

Since World War II, the Navy has sold or scrapped nearly one million tons of shipping, including battleships, carriers and cruisers. The new list of vessels destined for destruction contains such illustrious names as the Battleships California, Mississippi, Tennessee, which with the Enterprise formed one-half of the battle line in the biggest surface engagement of World War II, in the Leyte Gulf in October 1944.

After World War II the late Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal recommended without success that the Enterprise be preserved as a national monument.

The Enterprise was only 200 miles from Pearl Harbor when the Japanese launched their Dec. 7, 1941 attack plunging this country into war. For a while she was the (Continued on Sixth Page)

Unconstitutional Supreme Court Voids Jefferson Council Statute

NEW ORLEANS, June 1 (AP)—The Louisiana Supreme Court knocked out Jefferson parish's new commission council form of government, three days before it was scheduled to take office.

The high court declared the act setting up the new council unconstitutional and said it would give written reasons for its 5-2 ruling June 11.

The majority opinion said the act creating the council is "unconstitutional, null and void in its entirety."

The decision leaves the 17-man police jury, which was due to be replaced by the commission council June 4, in control of the parish government until a new election is called.

James G. Mollere, who had been elected commissioner - at - large, said he would fight the Supreme Court decision, possibly with a petition for recall of some parish officials.

"We feel the people of Jefferson Parish want a change in government," Mollere said. "They've shown that by voting 7 to 1 in favor of the commission council."

"We're going to fight it tooth and nail until Jefferson Parish has a commission council form of government."

Elected to the council along with Mollere, were Beauregard H. Miller Jr.; John G. Fitzgerald; Anthony A. Caramonta; and Alwyn Cronch.

Jefferson Parish Dist. Atty. Frank H. Langridge said the police jurors would continue to govern the parish until a new election can be called or until the governor appoints members of the jury to replace them.

Langridge said if the governor does not call an election, the jury (Continued on Second Page)

Disaster Avoided 2,500 Narrowly Escape Injury As Circus Tent Falls

FITCHBURG, Mass., June 1—UP—A violent wind gust knocked down a circus sideshow tent late Friday minutes after a Fitchburg policeman had the management cut short the show because of an approaching storm.

Nine persons, two of them circus roustabouts, were hospitalized. They were hit by the falling tent and sideshow display signs which were slammed to the ground. All were standing outside the tent which had been emptied minutes before, police said.

Paul Christiani, part owner of the circus, said he cut the last 20 minutes of the main show when 2,500 spectators were seated when he received the storm warning from patrolman Andrew Quinn.

A cheetah stalked out in the sideshow tent broke his leash and fled into his cage when the wind suddenly lifted the tent off the ground, Christiani said. A giraffe, equally frightened, broke loose and ran into his truck.

An hour earlier, five workmen were injured, one of them seriously, when a lightning bolt exploded a ton of dynamite wired in a ledge on the new Massachusetts toll road near Russell, 55 miles from here.

Youth Charged With Mischief In Death Prank

TEXARKANA, Tex., June 1—UP—Four teen - aged boys were charged with malicious mischief Friday for driving through the Texarkana area with a bloody arm hanging out of their automobile.

Police charged the four told them they wanted to "have some fun by scaring a few people."

One boy got into the trunk, splattered ketchup on his arm and let it hang out of the car, officers said. The boys stopped at a gasoline station, and one asked for direction to "the nearest river."

The station attendant called police. Officers set up roadblocks over a four-state area before picking the boys up near Garland, Ark. (Continued on Sixth Page)

230 Rebels Slain By French Troops In Algerian Battle

ALGIERS, June 1 (AP)—French military headquarters reported tonight 230 rebels have been killed in continuing battle in the "Gates of Iron" gorges of the Biban Mountains.

A stream-lined French division had an Algerian nationalist force trapped southwest of Bougie. First reports today said the number killed or captured was more than 100.

It was the biggest battle of the 18-month-old Algerian nationalist rebellion against the French. And it was the first time that anything like a whole French division has been fighting the rebels in a single battle.

French headquarters said the division was fully engaged, indicating that the rebel force was exceptionally large.

The French said they had captured 210 rebels during the three-day battle. They said 160 of the 230 rebels killed were wearing military uniforms. French casualties were not disclosed.

In the Constantine department of northeastern Algeria, other French forces attacked a rebel group near the town of Mila, killing 30.

Algiers police staged an early morning raid today on homes of known Communists and leaders of the National Algerian Movement (MNA). Thirty rebels and 10 MNA leaders were reported arrested.

Powerful mechanical detachments of the French 7th Division, supported by air units, are tightening a ring of steel around the rebels in the Gates of Iron battle.

Sterlington Girl Killed By Big Truck; Daughter Of Dr. And Mrs. Spencer

A seven-year-old Sterlington girl was crushed yesterday about 2:10 p. m. by an unloaded gravel truck as she attempted to cross Highway 2, near the Ouachita River bridge at Sterlington.

The girl was identified as Susan Spencer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Spencer, Sr., Sterlington. Authorities said she died of a crushed skull.

Driver of the gravel truck, identified as Willard G. Chaplin, 37, P. O. Box 216, West Monroe, was arrested by Louisiana state police and charged with negligent homicide.

Troopers said the girl was attempting to cross the highway from the direction of Ward's Cafe on the north side of the road when the gravel truck, traveling west, struck the youngster.

She was crushed to death by the right rear, dual wheels of the gravel truck after she was dragged about 50 feet by the ironwork bumper of the vehicle, troopers related.

The girl became caught in the right front of the bumper as the truck struck her, authorities said. Troopers said the truck driver made an attempt to swerve to the left to avoid hitting the girl.

Troopers said 116 feet of skid marks were left by the vehicle and that the point of impact was 115 feet east of the Ouachita bridge.

President Names Committee To Aid Small Businesses

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower moved today to counter Democratic charges that his administration favors big business.

The President appointed a seven-member Cabinet committee to study the problems of small business men and recommend steps for aiding and strengthening them where necessary. Among those named to the committee was Wendell B. Barnes, who has been in charge of the existing small Business Administration since 1954.

The White House announced the action was taken after the question had been discussed at the regular Friday Cabinet meeting.

"It is my wish that the federal government keep fully abreast of developments that affect small businesses," Eisenhower said. "Its programs and policies aimed at assisting small businesses should be carefully reviewed at this time with the object of strengthening them where necessary, and of making recommendations for steps that will provide such enterprises with additional constructive assistance."

Eisenhower directed the new committee to make a "continuing" study with a view to recommending administrative and legislative actions to "strengthen the economic position of small businesses and to foster their sound development."

Puzzle Jackpot Continues To Gain As Thousands Of Entries Miss Mark

By BONANZA BILL

The Morning World's crossword puzzle jackpot continued to gain weight this week. Out of the thousands of entries from throughout the district there were no winners.

This means that the jackpot will be boosted from $525 to the $550 level for the next go-round in the puzzle series, coming up in the Monday and Tuesday editions of the World.

Here is an explanation of the more difficult clues to this week's solution:

CLUES ACROSS:

4. We all like to look at a nice rose BUD for it is a pretty thing. A rose BED may still be a nice rose BED and yet not be particularly nice to look at; in the winter, for example, or after the petals have fallen.

'Old Bolshevik' Succeeded By Pravda Editor

Shepilov Takes Over On Eve Of Tito's Arrival

MOSCOW, June 1—UP—V. M. Molotov, strong right arm of the late Josef Stalin, resigned as foreign minister Friday. He was succeeded by Dmitri Shepilov, editor of the official Communist party newspaper Pravda, and an apostle of the new "competitive coexistence."

(Molotov's resignation came on the eve of the visit to Moscow by Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Molotov was foreign minister when the cominform "disowned" Tito in 1948.)

Molotov was one of the last of the "old Bolsheviks" in the post-Stalin government. His resignation had been expected by the West since denunciation of the Stalin "cult of the personality" — one-man rule — at the recent Communist party congress in Moscow. It was the first major change in the top level of the Soviet government since Nikolai Bulganin succeeded Georgi Malenkov as premier early last year.

The announcement by the presidium of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) did not say whether the veteran diplomat also would re-

Alabama NAACP Activity Banned By Judge In Court Order

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 1—UP—A circuit judge enjoined the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from "further activities" in Alabama Friday.

The court acted on the state's complaint that the association fostered the Aultherine Lucy riots and the Montgomery bus boycott.

Judge Walter B. Jones issued the temporary injunction, the second such action taken against the NAACP in the South. The Negro organization is enjoined permanently in Louisiana for failure to register its membership with the state.

The Alabama restraining order was issued on a petition filed by Attorney General John Patterson charging that the Negro organization is a foreign corporation not properly chartered in Alabama.

However, the NAACP in New York said it had filed with Patterson's office information he requested including its certificate of incorporation, constitution and names and addresses of officers.

The NAACP said it had not received copies of the action to indicate how it had failed to comply with the law. The organization also denied it had organized the Montgomery boycott or employed Aultherine Lucy to test the University of Alabama's all-white student policy.

Patterson's petition accused the NAACP of helping to "organize, promote and finance the Montgomery bus boycott" now in its sixth month.

The petition also charged the organization with paying "or otherwise employing" Aultherine Lucy, now married to a Texas minister, and Polly Myers Hudson, to test the policy of admissions at the university.

Bill Would Limit Use Of Voting Machines Jaycees Of Twin Cities, Voting Laws Association Oppose House Bill 603

A drive against House Bill 603, which would repeal the required use of voting machines in the State of Louisiana, was under way in the state yesterday.

The Louisiana Voting Laws Association sent telegrams to the state's newspapers urging that they "ask everyone interested in keeping voting machines and preventing vote buying to contact their state representatives at home, urging them to vote against House Bill 603 which is scheduled for the House session next Monday morning."

In the Twin Cities, the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record as opposing House Bill 603 with the following resolution:

"Whereas, there is now pending before the Louisiana Legislature a bill to repeal the required use of voting machines in certain important instances, and whereas, the use of voting machines is the best method to insure a fair and accurate reflection of the will of the people of this state, and, whereas, the failure to use the best possible voting methods tends to impair the integrity of the ballot, and whereas, the State of Louisiana has invested some forty-seven million dollars in voting machines, thereby obtaining sufficient machines for every precinct in the state, and whereas, a failure to use these voting machines will result in a waste of this investment."

"Now therefore, be it resolved by the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce that this body is opposed to the enactment of this legislation and is in favor of the required use of voting machines in every precinct in the State of Louisiana."

ors could remain in office until the next regular election four years from now.

The high court action had no effect on Sheriff William C. Coel, who took the oath of office today succeeding Frank Clancy who had served as sheriff of the parish for 28 years.

Coel who ran on the same ticket with Mollere, called on parish residents to work together to plan a new home rule charter that would leave the police powers of the parish under the sheriff.

The case on which the Supreme Court ruled today was brought by four members of the police jury.

In its decision, the Supreme Court said the act setting up the commission council provided a plan of government for one parish.

"No other parish of the state can under the act avail itself of its provisions," the court said.

"It is therefore clear that the act was not adopted by the Legislature pursuant to, under, and in accordance with the provisions of the constitution as the plan of government prescribed by the act is not by the act itself made available to any and all parishes of the state."

Associate Justice James D. Simon will write the majority opinion.

Citizens' Council Hears Address Of Natchez Editor

WINNSBORO, June 1 (Special)—Elliott Trimble, editor of the Natchez Democrat, addressed the Franklin parish Citizens Council here tonight at Winnsboro High School auditorium.

Trimble said the Citizens Council was "not fighting only the segregation decision, but fighting for all rights of the people." He said the segregation decision was only one step toward stamping out "all of our rights."

Trimble quoted the NAACP as saying the decision was only one step toward completely abolishing the color line.

He said "our government now is a big, positive, aggressive government." In explaining the constitution of the United States and its amendments he said the attitude of the Supreme Court was not the intention of the founding fathers.

He pointed out that only certain powers were delegated to the federal government by the states and the others were reserved for themselves.

He pointed out that the three branches of government were supposed to work as checks, one against the other "but the legislative branch has been overshadowed by the other two," judicial and executive.

"With the destruction of state sovereignty has come the destruction of home rule. Our states have become satellites of the central government. The greater the power of government, the less freedom we have," Trimble said.

"Our government must start serving again instead of the master," Trimble said.

Trimble called on opponents of integration not to stop fighting because of the Supreme Court decision. "The NAACP did not stop fighting when the court made five previous decisions in favor of separate but equal facilities," Trimble declared.

Another speaker on the program was Raymond F. Masling, of Farmerville, executive director of the Association of Citizens Councils in Louisiana.

After Millionaire Hubby Fired

Lady Docker Buys Auto Costing $21,280 To Take Place Of 'Company Car'

LONDON, June 1 (AP)—Fabulous Lady Docker bought a $21,280 automobile today to replace the trio of gold-plated cars she had to turn back to the owners—the company that fired her millionaire husband.

"I'm highly delighted with my new automobile," smiled Her Ladyship over a bubbling glass of pink champagne. "It's got everything—including a real streamlined body."

The new car will have to be a lulu, for her last gold-plated job had seats that were covered with zebra skin and a compass with a diamond eye.

"I would have had the seats covered with mink," said Lady Docker, "but mink is too hot to sit on."

Sipping his champagne and smiling at his blonde wife, Sir Bernard, who lost his job as chairman and general manager of the sprawling Birmingham Small Arms Corp. last night, announced he would fight to get back.

Docker and John Y. Sangster—the man who replaced him—fired verbal broadsides at each other as Lady Docker went new car-buying.

Sir Bernard issued a statement saying he was ousted by a "narrow majority" of the corporation's directors. Sangster countered with a statement that said the voting was 6-3 to fire Sir Bernard.

"I have now made up my mind to put the whole facts before the shareholders," said Docker. "I shall send them letters asking for their support."

Sir Bernard faces a lot of letter writing, for there are 17,000 shareholders.

Some of Lady Docker's friends and enemies—and she has lots of both—say her husband may have to do some explaining about her expensive clothes and cars. She bought a $14,000 mink and gold lame ensemble in which to pose beside one of her gold-plated cars, which are manufactured by a subsidiary of the Birmingham Small Arms Corp.

"Since I was doing nothing more than acting as a model," said Lady Docker, "I decided to charge the ensemble against tax if the tax people would agree."

She said an official of the corporation agreed the ensemble should be paid for out of corporation funds, but the tax people turned down the idea.

"So," she explained, "we paid for the ensemble with our own money."

Lady Docker, who will be 50 on June 23, also planned a birthday party with 20,000 corporation workers as her guests, but she denied this had any bearing on her husband being fired.

"We expected the party might cost about 10,000 pounds—$28,000—or so," said Sir Bernard. "But we were going to pay for it, and what's 10,000 pounds? Attaining your half century calls for a good party."

Freeport Sulphur Considers Change In Building Plan

NEW ORLEANS, June 1 (AP)—A Freeport Sulphur Co. official said today tax bills proposed in the Louisiana Legislature had created "a large element of doubt" that the state would be a good site for a multi-million dollar nickel processing plant.

The company has announced plans for operations in Cuba and the United States involving a total of 55 million dollars. It said the American plant would be located "in one of the gulf states."

Robert Hills of New York, executive vice-president and director, said today no final decision had been made regarding the site.

The company began work six months ago on a pilot plant at Braithwaite, south of here. Construction was expected to be completed in October.

Hills said Louisiana was selected for the pilot plant and likely site for future commercial developments because of favorable economic considerations and also because it was felt the state was "politically matured."

Hills said tax measures presented in Baton Rouge had changed this feeling on the part of company officials, adding "there is a large element of doubt in their minds" that Louisiana is the best site for the processing plant.

During the first three weeks of the current session, Louisiana lawmakers have turned in bills asking more than 44 million dollars in tax raises.

Passman Raps At Attacks On States' Rights

The necessity for safeguarding the states' rights concept in government and the urgent need for a cessation of what he termed irresponsible acts that "are fanning fires of unrest, suspicion and hatred" were emphasized in Washington by U. S. Representative Otto E. Passman of Monroe.

Addressing his comment primarily to members of Congress who are not "personally familiar with true conditions in the south," the Louisiana Fifth District Congressman declared that the recent southern manifesto was really much broader than the question of racial segregation to which it was specifically directed.

Congressman Passman, one of the signers of the Manifesto, stated that the document actually embodies in its thoughts and principles the traditions which the south has cherished for generations. He asserted it makes clear the continued adherence of the south to the "basic principle of our constitutional form of government that all rights not granted to the federal government are reserved to the states and to the people."

Asking for an open-minded attempt to understand the south's problems, Congressman Passman told his colleagues that the present members of the supreme court "disregarded all judicial precedent and reason" in writing the segregation decision and at the same time "attempted to usurp" the powers of Congress.

He gave stress to the point that the final power in a free nation resides in the people. "The people, generally, are reasonable," he observed, "but they know that when any one branch of government oversteps its bounds, then the people must take action to remedy the situation."

The Louisiana Congressman said it would be "fuzzy thinking" to doubt that the southern people would use all lawful means to reverse the supreme court's school integration decision. "To say that the southern people should not object to a decision so unfair as the supreme court integration decision would be in violation of all sense of reason and decency," he declared.

Finally, Congressman Passman said that he was unalterably opposed to integration of the races and that he would do everything within his power to help bring about a reversal of the U. S. Supreme Court's "unwise, unwarranted and unwanted" decision.

Registration To Begin Monday

Registration will begin Monday, June 4 for summer school classes at Neville High School, it was announced Friday.

Classes will begin Tuesday with a full curriculum offered with the exception of science courses.

Classes will meet daily, six days a week for 7½ weeks, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Paul J. Neal, principal, will direct the summer school.

Registration for elementary grades will be held at Central Elementary school Wednesday, June 6 for grades from 1 through 6. Regular classes will begin June 11 and will run from 8 to 12 a.m.

Mrs. Eulalia McCoy and Mrs. Ann Lindie will conduct the summer school.

Mrs. McCoy stated that if the children are recommended for summer work by the classroom teacher, the children will receive credit for the subjects they take.

There will be a small fee charged for the classes.

Principal Keeps Class Chart On Neville's Grads

Paul J. Neal, principal of Neville High School, has kept a chart of each class graduating from Neville since 1936, which shows what graduates entered college and gives complete statistics concerning their grades in college in comparison to the grades they made in high school.

In addition to keeping these charts, he has compiled some detailed interesting and valuable statistics.

The most outstanding fact of local interest is that 75 to 80 per cent of the Neville graduates enter college. In some classes the average runs higher, as in the 1955 class with 87 per cent who entered college.

This is far above the latest figures for the state of Louisiana. The average per cent of students entering college for the 1952-1953 term was approximately 40 per cent of the high school graduates, according to reliable sources, Van Odum, superintendent of City Schools stated.

The national average of graduates entering college was given as 57 per cent.

"Of necessity, Neville must be a college preparatory school," Mr. Neal said.

He further pointed out that in 52 per cent of the 559 courses taken in college by last year's graduates, the students made above average grades or A and B.

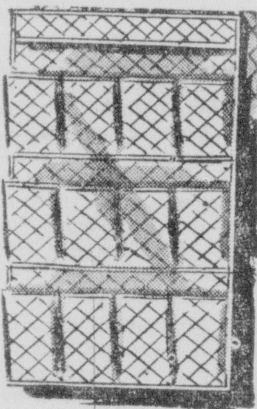

In the whole years work for the group, there were only 17 per cent below "average" grades.

The British railroads clear away snow by blowing it with compressed air, which vaporizes the snow in the same operation.

Now For Operation Egg-Warm

While the men of Operation Deepfreeze settle in for the long night in Antarctica, male emperor penguins prepare for Operation Egg-Warm.

The only birds to remain on the icy continent throughout the year, the emperors will hatch their young in the dark of the forthcoming winter.

Though it was long believed that female emperors help to tend the eggs, recent observers say that the males alone deserve the credit. After Mrs. Penguin lays a white, one-pound egg, she places it on her feet for her mate to see. He sings ecstatically.

The she rolls the egg onto the ice. Clumsily, the male maneuvers it onto his feet, tucking it between his short legs and a warm, enveloping flap of skin that serves as an incubator. There it stays for two months while papa penguin shuffles about or squats on the ice, his back turned against -50 degree blizzards that whistle through his feathers.

Once the eggs are put to roost, the penguin womenfolk take off for open water. They don't return until the chicks appear. Then the fathers, weakened by two months of fasting, stagger off to feed.

Authorities know little about the pre-marital habits of these birds. Emperors, the largest and most southerly of all penguins, have never bred in captivity. However, Malcolm Davis, bird curator of the National Zoological Park in Washington, once witnessed a courtship.

Mr. Davis holds the record—six years, three months—for keeping an emperor alive in a zoo. It was this hardy specimen which began keeping steady company with another emperor. At first he sat by her side. Soon he began circling her, clockwise for three or four rounds, then the other way. He arched his neck, threw back his neck and trumpeted deeply. In time, he moved in close enough to give her a flipper-pat on the back.

The pair never mated, however. The female died, leaving her grieving suitor sitting in the corner of the cage, his back turned on the public. A week later, he also died.

Meanwhile, Mr. Davis wrote up the romance. Shortly before he was to deliver the paper, an autopsy was performed. "He," like the penguin who died earlier, was also a she.

Graduates Face Future

It has been said that "there is nothing quite so useless as a commencement address." Judging from many that are made this may be true.

This is the time of year when thousands of high school and college young people are, as the orators say, "going forth to take part in building a better tomorrow." As a matter of cold fact, they are doing nothing of the sort.

First of all, they will not be building anything for quite a while. They will be struggling to make enough money to keep up with rising costs; trying to adjust to new jobs that may not fit them and then trying to find the one that does; trying to adjust to married life.

It will be many years before they get any chance at all to start to achieve the things they dream about as graduating seniors. The engineer will have to spend years before a drawing board before he builds great dams; the future businessman will work long hours at low pay for several years before he gets a chance at an executive position; the lawyer will work as a minor cog in a big law office, probably, before he "hangs out his shingle."

The graduate of today will be about 30 to 35 before he even gets a glimpse of the "mountains"—the accomplishments he can call his own, which make all of life worthwhile.

It is what to do with the 10 to 15 years between then and now a graduate ought to be advised. How to make the next 10 years useful in building experience, attitudes and knowledge of living, so that when the opportunity comes he will be prepared.

Interposition Sought In Texas

Texas may join Louisiana and five other Dixie States in approving interposition as a means of combatting the U. S. Supreme Court's racial integration program.

An interposition resolution was approved by the Louisiana legislature by unanimous vote in both houses.

The Texas Referendum Committee is seeking to place a similar proposal on the July state Democratic primary ballot. Robert Cargill of Longview, Texas, committee chairman, has appealed for 20,000 to 30,000 additional signatures on the referendum petition. Approximately 140,000 signatures already have been submitted to the state Democratic Executive Committee.

Spokesmen for the referendum group express confidence that the proposal will receive overwhelming approval at the polls, if submitted.

Texas, richest and most populous state below the Mason and Dixon Line, has remained largely in the background from the standpoint of opposition to the high court's legislative edicts intended to force racial integration on the nation.

Some of the state's public schools, in areas where few Negroes live, already have integrated. Yet opposition to the mixing of the races in schools and elsewhere is rising steadily in the populous areas of Central, East and South Texas; and Citizens' Councils have enrolled many thousands of members.

Champions of interposition also are active in Arkansas, and apparently are making progress.

Thomas Hart Benton says he will not paint any more murals, adding "although if someone came along with enough dough I might." Most resolutions follow this pattern.

What worries weight gainers is that they cannot be fat and fit their old clothes.

The Refugees

The Immigration Service has been tough on refugees and if they blame the State Department for laying down the law, who in that sprawling, incoherent department is responsible?

After all, there has been no misunderstanding as to how the refugees from the Iron Curtain countries came to be in the United States. They were especially admitted as defectors from Marxism. They were often helped to escape and to reach this country by American governmental agencies. They have been screened and examined. Some of them have been of some particular service to the United States. Nevertheless, Soviet Russia, Red Rumania, Red Poland, Red Hungary, are conducting campaigns for repatriation by blackmail and coercion and even what amounts to kidnapping and in the case of the kidnapped Russian seamen, the immigration authorities at Idlewild assisted the kidnappers.

General Alexander Barmin, formerly of the Red Army, himself a refugee in this country whose services to the United States should not be underestimated, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee:

"...I personally came in contact with many cases identical to the cases you are going to hear of the people living under false papers and identities, living in fear and terror of being denounced and executed."

Have we a right to send men to their death after they were granted sanctuary? Naturally, they had to adopt false names to escape. Many of these men had been prisoners of war in Germany. Out of about 4,500,000, according to Barmin, about 3 million were allowed to die from starvation and disease. Others were forcibly made slave laborers. Barmin said:

"...They were warned, too, sometimes by the Soviet repatriation officers, if they go back they don't expect to join their families, and also they would be sent to far parts of Russia for forced labor."

Those who managed to find sanctuary in the United States often changed their names in the hope that the Russians would not be able to get at them. Many of these men are married and are the parents of native American children. Barmin said:

"...I met hundreds of them who are living in fear and agony, who are afraid of loss of citizenship, who are afraid to use their ability and knowledge and their talent and what they know, because they think they will be deported and executed."

The immigration officials have a law to guide them which is very hard on those who enter this country under false names or who provide our government with other false information. Realistically, these people must use false names in self-defense. They know how Walter Krivitsky was murdered in Washington; they have seen Russians kidnapped right here in this country; they know that Juliet Poyntz, an American Communist, was kidnapped on 57th Street in New York, right in the heart of the city, was put on a Russian ship and was never heard from again. They know how Leon Trotsky was murdered in Mexico. So they do not put up neon signs announcing their presence.

Sergei Seizko came into this country assisted by American military friends in Germany, who, he says, helped him to prepare his papers which declare that he was born in Poland when actually he was born in Russia. When his wife applied for American citizenship, the immigration authorities went after Seizko, told him that they had known all about his incorrect papers and demanded a $2,500 bond which was raised by an American Army officer who knew him. Seizko swore that "...He earns $70 a week. He has to pay lawyers $1,500 in this case. He borrowed the money from three banks which he has to repay. The family of his wife is helping him, and that is saving him from complete disaster."

There are many hardship cases of this kind—cases involving refugees who were given sanctuary here, who changed their names and other identifying data on advice, and who now find themselves in conflict with our immigration authorities. To deport these people to Russia would be to send them either to slave labor camps or to death. There ought to be a policy and a procedure if we are not to have a world-wide reputation that when we afford a man or a family a sanctuary, it is violated by some department of the government. Surely, such a humane matter ought not to be left to routine officials of the Immigration Service

Parties' Plans

BASIC Republican strategy was laid down in the summer of 1952 in a detailed but still confidential blueprint for the campaign Wayne J. Hood of Wisconsin, one of the authors of the plan, revealed some of its principles in a speech Jan. 17, 1953:

"The Republicans, recognizing the need for additional votes, had for several campaigns (prior to 1952) directed their appeal at the so-called independent or liberal vote. The plan (for 1952) proposed a new approach, directed at people who had not taken the trouble to vote in years past. . . . The stay-at-homes outnumber the independents by approximately 45 million to an estimated three or four million. . . . I think the basic correctness of this strategy can be determined from the results."

Robert Humphreys, campaign director of the Republican National Committee, told CQ his party again would place its hopes on a big vote. "Our get-out-the-vote drive will be somewhat selective," he said, "but basically we are relying on the belief that of any 100 voters who come to the polls, the majority will favor Mr. Eisenhower and the Republican ticket." Humphreys said the Republicans had the same strategy in 1954 but "we failed to produce the big vote." The reasons:

"We had growing pains. We weren't used to being in power. And we didn't have the magical patronage that used to go with control of the Presidency."

"There was some dissension within the party. . . . Most important, there was too much lethargy in the country and we couldn't shake it. People were doing pretty well, and when that is the case, they don't vote in great numbers. The only places you had big votes in 1954 were in the areas of local unemployment, and that didn't help us."

As Humphreys sees it, the Republican task in 1956 is to motivate a big vote in the "large portions of the country that are well off" to counteract any possible upsurge in farm areas or other sections "that are not sharing the general prosperity." He thinks it will be difficult to equal the 1952 vote. But Republicans are planning a major effort in that direction. Most of the moves are in the future, but three already have been set in motion:

1—President Eisenhower's decision to seek re-election was, Humphreys says, a great boost to "organization enthusiasm," key to turning out a large vote.

2—Pledges have been given to carry out "The Republican recruit program," which calls on every GOP precinct captain to select an alternate or apprentice, between 21 and 30 years of age, and thereby double the size of the Republican working force for precinct registration and get-out-the-vote campaigns.

3—Republican women, organized as "Polltakers of America," have developed a technique of canvassing a precinct. They take surveys on current affairs, not only according to Humphreys, which keep the party informed on trends in public opinion, but enable the women to identify persons in their own precincts who have Republican leanings.

Encouraged by their success in Congressional, state and local elections since 1952, Democrats have emphasized development of precinct organization in preparation for the 1956 contest. All divisions of the National Committee have been involved in this effort. Spokesmen told CQ they feel the party is as strong organizationally, in individual states and communities, as it ever has been. One leader said, "We've got people working in towns we didn't even know existed four years ago."

In August, 1955, Democratic Chairman Paul Butler named a 28-member advisory committee on political organization, representing all sections of the party and areas of the country. The committee whose chairman is Neil Staebler, Michigan Democratic leader, has met several times and submitted two sets of recommendations to Butler. To date, only one suggestion from this committee has become a matter of party policy. A "Division of absentee voting" has been set up in the National Committee, with Rep. John W. McCormack (D Mass.) as its head. Butler said the appointment "reflects the growing awareness within the Democratic party of the vital role which the absentee vote will play in the 1956 election." He estimated the potential absentee vote at three million—largely servicemen, federal civil servants and their families.

Graduation Gifts

JUNE is graduation month and graduation means gifts for the graduates. Flowers fade too soon. Jewelry is unsuitable for most. Try to think of something in the young person wants, or which would help him on the next phase of his growth.

If the graduate is going on to the next higher school, he would like to have some bit of equipment he is going to need. Reference books that he can use are fine. A dictionary, even an encyclopedia, are gifts from heaven for the student, and they will last his lifetime. Get the standard works. They are unfailing.

A camera is one of the best gifts a graduate can have. Get the one suitable to his use for it. A beginner needs a beginner's camera, while the graduate of college grade needs a more scientific apparatus. There are cameras for every kind of use for fun, for study, for work in various fields. Buy the one that fits the need.

Every think of a trip abroad for a graduate? It is a wonderful gift that will give the recipient pleasure and profit for a lifetime. It's not too expensive if well planned, either.

And there is a gift that can open a door to the graduates dream of higher education—a course at the Conservatory for the struggling young musician, a course in college or in some specialized school for the hopeful aspirant in medicine, science, business could make all the difference in life to your special graduate.

To the elderly friend or relative who has that money stowed away for his heirs, let me suggest that you give it to the graduate who needs the lift it could give him now. Later, after you have no further need of money, this young person, boy or girl, may have lost his chance for the course that might have opened the door to happiness and success. There is such a thing as being too late with a benefit.

There is nobody who has succeeded in being a Somebody in his field who has not been given a hand up by some kindly person. That kindness was not meant to be wrapped up in himself, but to be passed on to the next youngster struggling to get a foothold on life's slippery way. Pass it on.

Then, this June, when you get that invitation to the graduation exercises, know that it is an invitation from an unseen spirit to consider what gift you can bestow that will keep alive a kindness through the next generation and the next, on down the years. It is an opportunity to invest in youth. Don't miss it.

At the start, lying it often the excuse for wrongdoing, but parents should search for the cause and put an end to lying before it becomes a habit. Dr. Patri tells how to do this in leaflet P-15, "Lying." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, in care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Oil And Gas

WASHINGTON — The American oil and gas industries will have more than a casual interest in a Congressional committee study which will get underway June 4.

Actually, the inquiry by a subcommittee of the House Interior committee headed by Rep. Ed Edmondson of Oklahoma, is directed at the coal industry and its problems. But one of the primary objectives of the hearings and study will be to determine the economic feasibility of producing liquid fuels and gas from the almost unlimited supplies of coal in this country.

In fact, Rep. John P. Saylor, Rep. of Pa., who sponsored the resolution adopted by the House initiating the inquiry, frankly hopes that as a result of the committee work, Congress will soon authorize the expenditure of enough money to build a full-scale plant for the liquidation of coal.

Research by the United States Bureau of Mines, several oil companies and several oil companies, has already proven that both liquid fuels and gas can be produced from coal.

But what the cost of producing gasoline, for instance, from coal would be if large commercial type plants were built for such production is a matter of serious dispute. All research to date has been done in so-called pilot plants, which means that cost figures must necessarily be estimates. As a result, oil industry estimates reach as high as 40 cents a gallon for gasoline, while the Bureau of Mines contends that gasoline could be produced from coal by already proven methods at only a slight increase in cost over that produced from crude oil.

In the opinion of Saylor and other members of Congress from the major coal producing districts, the argument cannot be settled until a full-sized commercial plant is built and operated. Saylor argues that the cost of such a plant should be borne in part, at least, by the federal government, just as the government is subsidizing construction of atomic power plants in cooperation with private industry.

While the amounts of oil and natural gas still remaining underground in the United States are still a matter of guess, it is generally conceded that both crude and natural gas supplies will become exhausted long before the coal deposits of the country.

Saylor and others pushing the inquiry contend that the country should begin now to prepare for the day when American oil and gas supplies are unable to meet the demand, and coal will be forced to supply both liquid fuels and gas. In event of another war, that time would come almost immediately, he declares.

Edmondson, who comes from a stated noted best for its oil production but which has tremendous amounts of coal, is not prejudging the problem prior to the comprehensive hearings.

"There is no question but what the huge deposits of coal in the United States represent a fuel resource of incalculable value," he declared. "It would be a serious neglect of duty on the part of the Congress and industry not to explore the potential use of this resource when and if it is required for national defense and the general economy of the nation."

Edmondson does not agree with some experts that the coal industry is a dying one. Despite the depression in the industry during the past several years, he foresees a steadily increased demand for coal as the nation's requirements for fuel continue to grow. This means finding new uses for the coal, since its onetime use for home heating and fueling of railroads is nearly over.

Initial witnesses before the Edmondson committee will be representatives of the coal industry and officials of government agencies dealing with the problem. Before the hearings are concluded, however, it is anticipated that representatives of the oil and natural gas industries will also testify.

Technically, the committee's life is limited to this session of Congress, which expires December 31. But Edmondson believes that it will be continued so that detailed studies can be made by a specially selected staff, after the earlier public hearings are concluded.

Why are there quite a few persons of the opinion that they can't enjoy a party unless they are in condition not to remember anything that happened at it?

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Father Fenton has pointed out a common fault of most of us church laymen. For we are almost as ungrateful as the 9 healed lepers who failed to return to say "thank you" to Christ. But we moral physicians and psychologists might also make some searching criticisms of some of the clergymen, too, as noted below.

Case R-372: Father Patrick Fenton, aged 32, is attached to the Notre Dame Church here in Chicago.

A great Catholic Youth Rally overflowed this historic church when Father Fenton addressed them recently on being more thankful in their prayers.

"A main sign of ingratitude is always to be grumbling and finding fault," he began.

"I don't like to use slang in the pulpit but a word you'll understand is 'griping'."

"Thanksgiving is a part of prayer, so be more grateful for the gifts of sight, hearing, home, food, clothing, religious family life and the American freeddomologists say 'Amen' to this excellent advice. For far too many folks indulge in 'gimme' prayers."

"Oh, lord, please gimme an 'A' grade." Students may thus frantically implore God just before a final exam.

"Please gimme a better job or a raise in pay," lazy workers often beg.

"Please gimme good health and freedom from cancer," others moan, even as they may light another cigaret to produce cancer in their lungs.

It is thus very unfair to "sponge" on God's mercy and affront the Almighty by asking for good health while we are knowingly trying to produce cancer in the healthy body God originally gave us.

God expects us to use "horse sense" and practical scientific judgment.

When medical experts have warned that cigarets are a definitely known cause of cancer, then it is an insult to God to beg him to perform a miracle by which our cigarets will not injure our lungs.

And you clergymen who stand before our teen-agers, sucking on your cigarets, are certainly not setting a good example.

Of all people on earth, clergymen are certainly supposed to lean over backwards to avoid misleading our youngsters.

If the American Medical Association has set its stamp of disapproval so strongly on tobacco that it has refused for the past 2 years to accept a single cigaret advertisement in its weekly Journal, then you clerics should certainly not join the opposition. That's conscious affront to God.

I'm obviously making this a strong charge and am not mincing words, for Christ didn't mince words, either, when he saw the money changers desecrating the Temple.

And our body, says the Bible, is the temple of God (John 2:21 & I Corinthians 3:17). It shouldn't be necessary for us medics and psychologists to remind you of your own Biblical precepts.

"Yes, Dr. Crane, but doesn't it humanize us?" a Protestant cleric once vainly tried to defend his cigaret habit, which he had adopted in imitation of a popular professor at a Chicago Theological Seminary here in Chicago.

Sophistry
Well, you don't need to try to humanize yourselves: All members of Homo sapiens are plenty human. The clergy need to become more saintly, not more human.

And it is then the main job of you clerics to help make us laymen more saintly.

When our teen-agers see you educated clerics stampeding like stupid sheep in front of the high pressure modern cigaret advertising, how can we scientists and parents offset your bad moral example?

You ask us to pay your salaries and support your churches, yet you meanwhile sabotage us parents and scientists. Is that fair play? Certainly it is not Christian!

So let's make a deal. While we laymen omit some of our "gimme" prayers, suppose you smoking and alcohol guzzling clergymen teen-agers read a better example, too. What do you say? Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

he was co-pilot on the helicopter. The aircraft was heavily loaded at the time of engine failure and it is reported as remarkable that no great damage and possible loss of life did not result.

In technical terms it is described that immediately upon suffering engine stoppage, rotating blades are manually disconnected from the engine and the wind turns the blades even faster than in normal action. The craft is made to descend almost vertically at a high rate of speed after the disconnection. When a few feet above the ground, the pitch angle of the blades is reduced to a relatively smooth landing.

The helicopter was 500 feet high when the trouble occurred.

Mr. Castles has been a member of the faculty of Brown University in Providence, R. I. for the past few years.

Mrs. J. Frank Jones has just returned from a visit to Columbia, South Carolina. While there she visited the grave of Samuel Fluit, her first forefather to land in America in the Seventeenth Century. He landed in the Bay of Georgetown, going up the Santee River some distance. Landing under a large water oak, lonely for the mother country, thanking God for the safe journey, and wanting to do something for the king, the newcomers stepped out and called this tree "Kingtree." A town called Kingtree has grown around this area. A monument has been placed at the entrance of this town, marking the spot where the tree stood.

At the time of Mr. Fluit's death, he was a large landowner with 9,000 acres and a number of slaves. Mr. Fluit was buried in a very quaint vault made of glass and brick with a white marble slab over the top. So many curious people moved the slab to see the condition of the body that relatives lowered it into the earth. The white marble slab was black from age and time. Mrs. Jones pulled moss from magnolia trees over a century old and wiped the tomb so she could read the inscription.

Mrs. Jones, being a charter member of the Chief Tusquahoma Chapter of the D.A.R. was very interested in visiting the place that she has longed to visit since childhood.

having SEEN it. When he SETS it is no time for the inward smile; he will probably be tense and expectant, and smile to himself LATER, when the trap looks like succeeding.

15. The clue is perfectly true of CAST. The PLAY has a CAST—which is often quite small in the case of an amateur production. Regarding COST, it is not so much a question of the COST of the PLAY but of the COST of PRODUCTION.

20. A gauge may register NIL. The oil gauge does not so much register OIL as PRESSURE of OIL.

23. SAFE is best. Where would there be a place where "no one" was SANE. That would include the attendants as well as yourself.

25. People go to the circus to see the show, including the FEATS of the acrobats, etc. They are not concerned with the SEATS AS SUCH, but rather with what they can see FROM their SEATS.

CLUES DOWN:

1. PEN is best. To insist infers that he succeeds in getting it. He could get the best kind of PEN simply by paying for it. Many factors might prevent him getting the best kind of MEN—they might well be in short supply, for example. DEN is vague.

2. INSURE is preferred. The thought that he might INSURE his hands is not likely to occur to an "ordinary" pianist, though it might reasonably occur to a great concert pianist. The thought of possible INJURY might come to a pianist of ANY calibre.

3. MINERS will naturally lose in efficiency if they're "pretty old." There is no "may" about it. As for LINERS, they "may" lose in efficiency or they may not, depending on how well the equipment is kept up. Thus, LINERS best suits the clue. DINERS is not as good.

5. DOPED is best. To have been DOPED is much too serious a thing to forget. All of us have been DUPED in our lifetime—some of us perhaps quite OFTEN in some small way.

11. The fact that he hasn't had ANY DECENT parts is certainly enough to discourage him. On the other hand, a highly successful actor may quite easily, at one time or another, not have had any RECENT parts, possibly by CHOICE.

13. ICELAND is correct. It is an "island" republic whereas IRELAND is not, being bordered on the north by NORTHERN IRELAND.

16. Without SHAME, yes; but it is more a case of NOT HAVING HAD A SHAVE than of being "without it."

18. SWEET music measures up better as a KIND of music—this suggesting an actual type of music such as "hot music." "Sweet music," etc. SHEET music is no particular kind of music, but is merely one form in which music (of ANY kind) can be published.

F. Burns of the Council of Economic Advisers, head of the new committee, Eisenhower listed many federal activities which he said facilitate the establishment of new business concerns and foster the growth of others.

"Yes," he added, "the conditions of our modern economy are such that many small concerns confront substantial hindrances to their growth."

Democrats have charged that Eisenhower administration policies, particularly in the tax and military buying fields, have favored big corporations to the detriment of small business firms. Administration spokesmen have denied this.

Last month the Democratic National Committee set up a special advisory group on small business, headed by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Rep. Patman (D-Tex.). At the group's first meeting on May 11 Patman said:

"In the first four months of this year small business failures were the greatest in any similar period in the past 15 years, while big business profits and stock prices hit an all-time high."

Named to serve with Burns on the Eisenhower committee were: Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of Commerce Weeks, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming, Small Business Administrator Wendell Barnes and Housing Administrator Albert Cole.

Solon To Amend

bring an extra 32 million dollars.

Jones said his amendments would drop the total proposed yield to 27 million a year by:

1. Exempting state industries using natural gas in manufacturing operations which make use of Louisiana natural resources from paying any-gas gathering tax.

2. Freeing another 15 per cent of Louisiana industry from the proposed 2½-cent increase by exempting natural gas used in manufacturing operations which make use of out-of-state natural resources.

Department of Revenue figures, Jones said, show that 9.5 million of the 12.5 million revenue from the current one-cent tax comes from outside Louisiana.

He predicted that the 27 million the trimmed tax bill would bring "would be substantially enough to provide good salary raises for our teachers."

Last week the Public Affairs Research Council reminded that Louisiana already has the highest natural gas tax in the nation. Texas is the next highest, but its rate is scheduled for a cut in September.

Before adjourning for the week-end Thursday, lawmakers introduced almost 60.5 million dollars more in appropriations. This brings the total of special appropriation bills so far to 139 million.

Additional special spending proposals are expected at Sunday night's session, the final one for introducing bills.

The 480 million general and special appropriations total does not include such proposals as the multi-million teachers pay bill and pay hikes for the Legislature, several top state officials and board members.

Gov. Long's budget report, however, indicates that only a 10 million dollar general fund surplus is available for legislative spending.

Louisiana cities made their bid for more state tax revenue in the form of several legislative proposals. Three of them are backed by the Louisiana Municipal Assn.

Mayor Curt Siegelin of Bogalusa supports a fourth, rejected by LMA's executive board, seeking a two per cent boost in New Orleans race track taxes, the revenue to be distributed among cities. Siegelin reported earlier Gov. Long isn't against the plan.

Most legislators are eyeing the 11 tax raise bills moving up for final actions. Although Gov. Long has strength in both houses, a new constitutional provision requires two-thirds of the Legislature, instead of a simple majority, to approve tax raises.

The 11 tax boost bills are:

1. A 2½-cent gas gathering tax hike to produce 32 million dollars, which Jones plans to cut to about 27 million.

2. A 10-cent boost in the $1.58 a gallon liquor tax levy, sought by the administration to provide $500,000 to finance a revived Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

3. A 40-cent increase in the liquor levy, sought by the LMA, to produce two million dollars for cities.

4. Tripling the sulphur severance tax to $3 to provide four million dollars to be used indirectly for old age benefit increases sought by Long.

5. Doubling the timber severance tax, also approved by Long, to produce $600,000 more.

6. Levying a $3 a ton tax on menhaden and similar fish caught for industrial use, to provide 1.5 million for education.

7. A constitutional proposal to allow cities to raise property taxes by three mills, backed by LMA, to produce an estimated two million more.

8. Authority for cities to levy a 2 per cent gross receipts tax on utilities, including telephones.

9. A four per cent boost in horse race betting taxes in New Orleans and a 20 per cent gate tax, both sponsored by the administration, to raise two million dollars more to be allocated state fairs and festivals and Louisiana State University.

10. Siegelin's plan for a two per cent racing tax hike, producing two million for city aid.

11. A plan to charge $1,000 permit fees for gas pipelines crossing state highways or public lands.

sign from his other posts. He is a first deputy premier along with Anastas Mikoyan, Lazar Kaganovich and Maxim Saburov.

(Western observers said Molotov's resignation would permit him to retire into the background during the Tito visit. As foreign minister, he most certainly would have had to participate prominently in the various functions scheduled for Tito.)

Molotov once served briefly as premier of the Soviet Union, but stepped down to serve as foreign minister for Stalin. "Old Iron-Pants," as he was sometimes called, was recognized by Western statesmen as one of the most skilled diplomats of the post-war era.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in his book "War and Peace," labeled Molotov one of the canniest diplomats he ever saw in action.

Shepilov long has been considered by informed observers of the Soviet scene as the man to replace Molotov. More and more he has come forward recently as the man whose ideas are in line with the competitive coexistence theories espoused by Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev.

A Tass News Agency announcement broadcast by Radio Moscow said:

"The USSR Supreme Soviet Presidium has acceded to the request of the first Deputy Chairman of the USSR Council of Minister V. M. Molotov to relieve him of the duties of USSR foreign minister."

Shepilov, 49, is a new-generation revolutionary. He began his rise under Stalin and in the early 1950's, headed the agit-prop department of the party which laid down the party propaganda line.

He took over as editor of the official Communist party organ Pravda in 1952. He brightened it somewhat by introducing cartoons and photographs but the newspaper remained the mouthpiece for the all-powerful Soviet Communist party.

As editor of Pravda, Shepilov was a chief Communist theoretician and as chairman of a foreign affairs committee in one house of the Supreme Soviet, or parliament, he had been an expert on foreign policy.

Molotov is an assumed name that means "The Hammer." He was one of those who, with Stalin, brought the present Communist nation out of the ruins of revolution.

Molotov's position since the denunciation of Stalin had been anomalous.

malous. He was the strong diplomatic arm that implemented the Stalin foreign policies which Khrushchev said made the Soviet Union an island in the world.

Since the attack on Stalin, Molotov has made several statements adjusting his past position to the new Kremlin line. But it became clear in April that he no longer was the primary spokesman on Soviet foreign policy.

It was Shepilov, and not Molotov, who made a major home front speech in Moscow while Bulganin and Khrushchev were visiting Britain early this year.

Shepilov's statements bowed to the new Kremlin line of breaking with the rigid Stalinist policies and advocating "competitive coexistence" between West and East.

Molotov has served as foreign minister of the Soviet Union since 1939 except for a one-year period when he was succeeded by the late Andrei Vishinsky. Vishinsky was fired as foreign minister after Stalin's death in March 1953.

Shepilov is a full member of the Communist party's central committee and a candidate member of the central committee's presidium.

In 1953, he was elected as associate member of the USSR Academy of Sciences in the branches of economy, history and law. He was elected chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the council of nationalities of the Supreme Soviet in 1954—that was when foreign observers marked him as a man to watch.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

It is essential that we take stock of our mental quicks periodically, that we throw out those thoughts which depress us and keep only those which add happiness to our lives.

Why Not Give Your Mind A Spring House Cleaning

At some time during each spring season all women are attacked by the urge for self-improvement. It all begins with spring house clean-ing when a man hardly recognizes his usual habit at upon returning home in the afternoon and can find nothing he looks for.

Everything may seem normal when he leaves in the morning but when he returns that night the rugs have disappeared, the drap-eries may be down, and he may glimpse his wife through an open closet door, in a mad whirl of cleaning up and reorganizing.

Usually this frenzy of improve-ment goes further and you will find the little woman giving her skin and hair some special atten-tion, and probably exercising and counting calories.

I often think that we should take this idea all the way and give our minds a house-cleaning at least once a year. We accumulate an awful lot of useless stuff in our minds as well as in our houses and habits of thought become more securely fixed than cobwebs

Lafourche Parish Sheriff Approves Bingo And Keno

THIBODAUX, La., June 1 (AP)—Sheriff Eddie St. Marie of La-fourche Parish said today he has no objections to keno and bingo games in his parish, but would shut down "gambling."

He classified gambling as black-jack, dice, slot machines and other games of chance.

The New Orleans Times Picayune, in a front page story, today told of a keno game operating in Raceland just a few hours after St. Marie had been sworn in as sheriff.

Former State Police Supt. Francis Grevenberg included keno and bingo in his gambling crackdown.

But Gov. Earl K. Long said he would not oppose charity bingo.

The Lafourche sheriff said, "the keno and bingo games played in my parish are always for the bene-fit of a worthy cause. I have no objections to organizations like the American Legion, the VFW and firemen holding bingo parties to raise money to be used to help the community and the people of this community."

St. Marie said donations from the game at Raceland "will be made to the charity hospitals of the parish at Golden Meadow and Thibodaux."

He added, "the people playing there last night were old friends of mine and represented all politi-cal factions. Playing bingo and keno is a tradition with them, and for many it is considered merely a pleasant way to pass the time."

"I don't believe many of them would be there if they thought they were gambling," St. Marie said.

Keno is similar to bingo. A win-ner at the Raceland game was en-titled to $30. An employee of the establishment told a reporter each card sold for $1.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX —

- Children Come First
- Language Problem

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a widow with four adorable children. The three boys are staying with their paternal grandparents while the little girl lives with me and my parents. I must work and my folks didn't want to assume the responsibility of four youngsters. Hence the separation of the children.

I have met, and fallen in love with, a fine man. We are planning marriage; he refuses to take my three boys, but agrees to my keeping the girl. I love my sons dearly and wonder if I could convince him to take them after we're married.

Fanny

DEAR FANNY: On the contrary, after he's married he'll probably refuse to accept your daughter. Your fiancé doesn't want the responsibilities of another man's children; he wants to begin married life free and unfettered.

Obviously, as a mother of four you won't fit into that picture. If you tried it, the only result would be unhappiness. You might banish four lively kids from your life, but never from your heart or mind. Furthermore, it wouldn't be exactly sporting to leave the boys forever in their grandparents' care. Suppose something happens to the couple? Where would your boys be then?

I know it isn't easy for a widow to turn down an attractive matrimonial prospect, but this one seems to have very little to offer except charm. You want something more substantial, I'm sure.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am soon to become engaged and have no problems with my boy friend that I can't solve. However, I'm having future mother-in-law trouble already. Though my friend and I are of the same original nationality, my folks were born here and speak only English; his parents were born abroad and still speak their native tongue.

My fiancé's mother often pokes fun at me for not learning the language she speaks. Should I refuse to visit her, complain to my boy friend, or give her a taste of her own medicine and insult her?

Patty

DEAR PATTY: Your impatience with, and intolerance of, the older woman makes your own ignorance only too apparent. You con-sider every angle of retaliation, but none of co-operation. You look down on your friend's mother, when you should respect her.

If your only in-law difficulty is a question of language, consider yourself lucky. A sensible girl would take full advantage of the opportunity not only to learn another language, but to please her fiancé and his mother. Get wise, girl; start making your marriage a success now.

Write Dorothy Dix for free leaflet D-40, "Summer Romance." or, if you have a problem, send it to her. In all cases, be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send request to her, care of this newspaper.

Negro Soldiers Face Trial For British Slaying

HULL, England, June 1 —UP—Four Negro members of the U. S. Air Force Friday night were ordered to stand trial in a British court on charges of murdering an Englishman who objected when one of the men spoke to a white woman.

It will be the first time since World War II that any American serviceman has been tried for murder in a British court.

The accused men were committed for trial at the end of a pre-liminary hearing.

The defendants, jailed at Leeds, are airmen James C. Jordan, 20, of Newark, N. J.; Leroy Grayson, 26, of Brooklyn; James P. Mar-tin, 22, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Vincent Hill, 19, of Chicago.

They are charged with murder-ing Walter Beaumont, a 27-year-old laborer, during a fight in a dockside cafe named the "Blue-bird," on May 4.

Witnesses testified that the ser-vicemen stabbed Beaumont twice and took turns kicking him as he bled to death on the floor of the cafe. They allegedly also beat Beaumont's companion, Ernest Milne into unconsciousness.

Benson On Tour Of Corn Country; Hears Farm Woes

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 1—UP—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson toured Iowa's corn-belt farmlands in a station wag-on Friday and was greeted with complaints about hog prices and the drought.

Benson took a look at parched cropland and agreed that some sections are "on the verge of qualifying as disaster areas."

The secretary, clambering over barbed wire fences and checking on moisture and crop conditions as he went, swept through south-western Iowa for a first-hand check on the problems of farm-ers.

He planned to spend the night at Nebraska City, Neb., just across the Missouri river from Iowa, and tour Nebraska farms Saturday.

About 100 farmers turned out to greet Benson at his first stop at the farm of Ralph Hardin south of Indianola, Iowa. It was here Benson encountered his first and only criticism.

One of the farmers, E. S. Weise of Jewel, stepped up to complain about hog prices, agri-cultural research and imports of hams from Communist Poland.

Weise also told Benson he does not have enough real farmers on his advisory staff.

Benson took Weise's complaints good-naturedly. He said hog prices are now on the rise and his department is doing more in agricultural research than the previous administration. He said

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Sheriff Grant Goes Into Office For Third Term

Bailey Grant, 40, was sworn in Friday morning by Chief Deputy Clerk Beto S. McRaney for another four years as sheriff of Ouachita parish. Today marks the beginning of his third term in office.

He was unopposed for reelection and was automatically declared re-elected.

Sheriff Grant is following tradition, as his father was deputy here for eight years until 1916, when he was elected sheriff. He served as sheriff of Ouachita parish until 1924.

Bailey Grant started in as a deputy U. S. marshal. He was called into service during the war and served three years. Upon his return he resumed his former job and worked one and a half years, until he resigned to run for sheriff of Ouachita parish.

He resides with his wife, Dorothy Brees Grant, and their daughter, Bessie, 11, at 109 Slack in West Monroe.

Sheriff Grant has had opportunities for excellent positions elsewhere but upon a recent occasion expressed his happiness at serving in Ouachita parish. Commenting upon his return here from service, he said, "I almost kissed the first pine tree I saw!"

He announced that 24 deputies would be sworn in throughout the day Friday.

Melodrama: It happened last week. At the murder trial of Don Theis, charged with slaying Myron Hough, Fred Engels, defense counsel, suddenly and could not continue. Judge W. H. Munson looked around the court room and recognized lawyer B. G. Nemeroff. "Will you defend Theis?" said His Honor. "Yes," Mr. Nemeroff assumed the assignment immediately. That was on a Friday. On Monday (after studying the record day and night over the week end) Nemeroff delivered a powerful cross-examination of the State's psychiatrist, who claimed the defendant was sane. Nemeroff created "the reasonable doubt" and saved him from the chair. The d. a. accepted a 2nd Degree murder plea. Theis is got 20 years to life. Why is it a paragraph here? Because lawyer Nemeroff (doing his duty) defended a man who killed Myron Hough. Nemeroff's friend!

Broadway Owl: Al Simmons, the baseball star who passed the other day, took his name from a sign he saw in a small town, "Simmons Hardware Co." He was born Harry Syzmanski. ## 4 Crewmen Die

DENVER, June 1.—UP—A crippled Air Force B-5 bomber crashed and scattered burning wreckage through the yards of three homes here Friday, killing four of the eight military personnel aboard.

None of the occupants of the houses, located in a suburban area a mile south of Lowry Air Force Base, was hurt although one house was set afire.

The four injured survivors of the crash—one of them a WAF—were reported in good condition at the Lowry base hospital. Two were only shaken up while one had a broken arm and the fourth body burns.

The names of the dead were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The twin-engined plane, enroute from McChord Air Force Base, Wash., to Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla., had taken off at 7:59 a.m. CST from Lowry by Tyndall. Two minutes later the pilot radioed Lowry he was having engine trouble.

The plane crashed and exploded on a hillside, narrowly missing four houses in the heavily-populated suburban area immediately southeast of Denver, in neighboring Arapahoe county.

The plane's right wing missed one house by 24 inches, knocking over a stack of cement sacks and grazing a pickup truck parked in the yard. It set fire to the corner of the Herbert Roddy home but firemen quickly put out the flames.

At another nearby house, Mrs. William Morgan was in the front yard watering the lawn when two of her five children when she heard the plane. She told the girls to run into the house and dashed inside herself to where two other children were eating breakfast. Another daughter was waiting for a school bus on a road nearby.

As Mrs. Morgan reached the door, she said the plane crashed and flames engulfed the yard. Ernest C. Wheeler, 61, was driving to work at Lowry when he saw

TV Stations Form National Group At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, June 1 (P) —

Representatives of 65 television stations over the nation organized the Assn. of Maximum Service Telecasters here today.

A spokesman said another 37 stations had indicated "definite interest" in the movement, which began about three months ago.

The new organization elected Jack Harris of Houston (KPRC-TV) chairman.

The spokesman said the group's objectives was "to assist the appropriate government authorities and the television industry in assuring the maximum TV service for the people of the United States, and to follow the intent of Congress in the communications act of 1934 as amended."

Membership, he said, is open to any television station in the country, VHF or UHF, "rendering maximum service by operating at the maximum effective radiated power permitted for such station by the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission."

The association adopted a requirement that each member station must operate in the best interest of the people, both urban and rural, in its total service area, he said.

Baptists Reaffirm Local Autonomy At Convention

KANSAS CITY, June 1 (AP)—The right of a Baptist church to determine its own affairs by congregational vote was reaffirmed today by the Southern Baptist Convention.

At the same time, the convention refused to repudiate a North Carolina court ruling that a minority faction can control and manage a church property if the majority's action are contrary to the church's established "faith, customs, usages and practices."

The action, first by the SBC in 28 years on the controversial local autonomy question, represented a half-victory for Dr. James W. Bulman, East Spencer, N. C. He fought for three days to bring it to a vote and three times earlier this week was shouted down.

"I am well pleased," Dr. Bulman said after the vote.

His fight, which he said was waged on principle, stemmed from a Rocky Mount, N. C., church split. A majority of the congregation there voted to withdraw the church from its local, state and the Southern associations. A minority fought the withdrawal in the courts and won on the ground that the majority wanted to convert the church property to uses its founders did not intend.

Bulman said he opposed the majority's plan to withdraw from the associations, but saw in the court's finding a reversal of the historic Baptist practice of local autonomy. Recalling that the church had set fourth its recognition of the autonomy principle in 1928, Bulman presented a resolution calling for reaffirmation of that declaration and repudiation of the North Carolina court's finding.

The issue was regarded as having wide application because local autonomy is practiced generally in all denominations with a ment.

The convention voted down the Bulman amendment and then immediately voted down a motion to shelve the issue forward by David Miller, Autryville, N. C. The restatement of the 1928 local autonomy declaration was then adopted with only a scattered dissent.

Government Resists Case In Trial Of 2 Truman Aides

ST. LOUIS, June 1 — UP—The government resisted its case late Friday in the trial of two Truman administration officials charged with conspiracy to allow a tax evader to escape criminal trial.

Wyllis S. Newcomb, special assistant attorney general, announced the prosecution had completed presentation of its evidence against Matthew J. Connolly and T. Lamar Caudle after questioning its 47th witness.

The witness, Frederick Folsom, a Justice Department attorney, testified Caudle chided him in 1951 for writing a letter urging a heavy fine and prison term for Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe broker whose case the defendants are accused of trying to fix.

The letter was sent above the signature of Caudle, then chief counsel of the department's tax division. Folsom said Caudle told him Sachs should not be sent to prison because he was an epileptic and that each case should be decided on its merits rather than by blindly following the division's manual.

The government earlier produced an excerpt from the journal of Harry I. Schwimmer, attorney for Sachs, which it charged showed Schwimmer had received $10,000 at one time from his client to be used in getting the case dropped.

Sachs was indicted in 1951, pleaded guilty and was fined $40,000. Federal Judge Roy W. Harper testified he let Sachs off without a prison term because of his health.

The journal excerpt noted that $4,500 of the original amount had gone for an oil royalty "to M. C." and that the balance would be "held in escrow to be paid out pending whether Sachs case is dropped."

The government charges Schwimmer gave oil royalties to Connolly, White House aide to former President Truman, and Caudle as bribes for their efforts on behalf of Sachs.

TALLULAH, June 1 (Special) — Sixteen of Madison parish's fairest young ladies will compete for the title of "Miss Madison Parish" in the Tallulah Jaycee Beauty Pageant to be held at Tallulah High School Thursday evening, June 7. Roy Welsh, chairman of the pageant, has announced.

Among these committees are: Glen Paulette, Harold Kirkpatrick, Jim Williams, Richard Marshall, Benny Pruitt, Millard Napper, David Price, Herman Day, George Davis, Norman Smith, Norman Miers, Jim Brown, Bobby Grimes, Cray Laughman, Freddie Helton, Trent Palmer, Johnny Head, Malcolm Selmer, and George Batchelor.

Si Willing, president of the Tallulah Jaycees, will present the pageant awards after the judges make their decisions.

Quickie Strike By Cleveland's WU Workers Ends

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—About 460 Western Union employees in Cleveland walked out for 3½ hours today when Washington negotiations failed to bring a quick settlement on a countrywide working contract to replace one which expired last midnight.

The union said the Cleveland employees were called out for an "emergency meeting." They later returned to work.

Western Union employees in most other communities were reported to be working, however.

Representatives of the Commercial Telegraphers Union here could not be reached immediately to ascertain whether any walkouts had been authorized from national headquarters.

It was learned that the CTU issued instructions to its members last weekend that they should not strike without a specific go-ahead from the national organization.

Both the CTU and the American Communications Assn., an independent union, are negotiating for new contracts. Both met here briefly with company officials today.

No progress was made, however, in the one-hour New York parley and the ACA and the company agreed to resume negotiations Monday in Washington. The union said it would not break off negotiations without at least 24 hours warning.

It was agreed to recess the CTU negotiations until Monday. ACA negotiators, who represent nearly 4,000 Western Union employees in the New York area, planned a night session in New York.

The CTU is bargaining for about 30,000 Western Union workers across the country.

While a strike could be called at any time, there still seemed to be no disposition on the part of the unions to order a general walkout.

Unfixed call sales as of May 25 totaled 1,057,000 bales vs. 662,300 a year ago and unfixed call purchases 46,400 vs. 77,300 a year ago.

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Gum naval stores today: receipts: turpentine 102, rosin none; shipments: turpentine one, rosin none; stock, turpentine 1,046; rosin 484.

Cotton New York

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Cotton futures weakened in late dealings today as traders took profits and found limited buying orders in the market. Final prices were unchanged to 70 cents a bale lower.

In earlier dealings, prices had moved up to small gains, paced by spot house buying in some of new crop months. Memphis interests were credited with buying about 7,500 bales of distant July, with New Orleans supplying much of the contracts. There was some trade switching from December to March. Firmness at the primary spot cotton markets induced covering in old crop July futures, although that delivery lost all of its earlier gains by the close on further liquidation.

Soil bank developments and a higher mid-May cotton parity, which had contributed to brisk market rally on Thursday, did not appear to stimulate further demand for futures today.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Cotton futures moved over a narrow range here today with weekend long liquidation and hedge selling offsetting trade buying and short covering. Closing prices were steady 40 cents a bale lower to 19 cents higher.

Futures opened about unchanged from the previous day moving in a narrow range thereafter. Memphis interests appeared to be sellers of old July offset by short-covering. New crops closed slightly easier on a small volume of hedging. A trade source was a good buyer of new July. Liverpool was unchanged to up 70 cents points, with the July contract exceptionally strong. Belief that free supplies still remain extremely light in that country until after July contributed to its strength.

Presumably, a maximum and minimum announcement will be made shortly on the amount of land that may be entered under the soil bank provision. To date there has been no mention of a maximum or minimum figure. Secretary Benson states the new farm bill requiring the United States Department of Agriculture to sell cotton competitively abroad means domestic mills will need protection.

Lamar Fleming, Jr., of Anderson Clayton, told the American Cotton congress a drop in the price of cotton is essential less the fire sale program being embarked on involves the sacrifices of hundreds of millions of tax payers 634 money, thus milking American consumers for many times more than the differences between artificial domestic prices and foreign prices.

Unfixed call sales as of May 25 totaled 1,057,000 bales vs. 662,300 a year ago and unfixed call purchases 46,400 vs. 77,300 a year ago.

'Peace' Debate

Adjournment Of Security Council Forced By Arabs

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 1—UP—The Arabs, with Russian support, Friday forced adjournment of the UN Security Council debate on a British resolution empowering Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to continue his peace efforts in Palestine.

Britain revised its resolution on the issue to meet two major objections from the Arabs, but refused to budge on a paragraph declaring the necessity to create conditions that could lead to solution of the Middle East problems on a "mutually acceptable basis" between Israel and the Arabs.

After two sessions Friday, the council adjourned until Monday.

The disputed clause had placed Russia's Arkady A. Sobolev in a sensitive diplomatic position before he finally came out in support of the Arab opposition to it.

The disputed language had been taken from the London communiqué issued after the April talks

there between Russian leaders Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin and British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden.

The Arab bloc, led by sharp-talking Ahmed Shukairy of Syria, declared that the British had taken the wording "on a mutually acceptable basis" out of the context of the Khrushchev-Bulganin-Eden communiqué.

The Arabs also argued against any action that might conceivably lead to a reopening of the basic issues that have blocked peace in Palestine since the end of the shooting war in 1949. Instead, they contend that any solution must be based on previous UN decisions, many of which have been disregarded by Israel.

Ever since the council began its debate on the British resolution last Tuesday, Sobolev had sat silent with the dilemma of whether to pursue the Kremlin's established UN policy of siding with the Arabs or to support Britain in its quotation of the communiqué subscribed by his Kremlin chiefs.

Sears' Spending For Advertising At New Record

CHICAGO, June 1 (AP)—June 1—Sears, Roebuck and Co. reported today it spent $41,775,000 for newspaper advertising in 1955. This was 10.9 per cent more than the 1954 figure of $37,673,800.

The outlay was spread among 1,012 daily and weekly newspapers in every state in the U.S. Sears said this was the 10th consecutive year of record advertising expenditure by the company. "The newspapers of the nation are continuing to do an effective selling job for Sears and they played a vital role in our being able to move a record quantity of goods last year," said Edward Gudeman, vice president in charge of merchandising.

Bond Is Reduced In Manslaughter Case In Court

Bond for Irene McGuire, Negro, 1101 DeSard street, charged with manslaughter in the May 19 shooting of Ishah Jones, 30, 8 Short Flynn street was reduced from $5,000 to $3,000 following preliminary hearing in Fourth District court Friday. The Negro woman claims to have unintentionally shot the man at Lacy's Chicken Box, 1111 Adam street, where she worked as a waitress after he came behind the counter and slapped her, according to a recorded confession played during the hearing. The defendant is confined to the Ouachita Parish jail. Arthur D.
